IDEAL WEATHER BRINGS GOOD CHEER TO LOCAL MERCHANTS

Annual Dollar Day Was Well Advertised—Street Railway Reports Big Increase in Business—Streets Lined and Stores Packed With Enthusiastic Shoppers

The fifty-four merchants of Lowell who for the past month have been carefully planning at the chamber of commerce for the annual "Dollar Day" today reaped the fruits of their labors. The attractive offerings made by the various stores, and advertised with liberal use of newspaper space yesterday, attracted thousands of spending shoppers to the downtown stores. While it is too early to comment on the financial success of the day, with the evening yet before them, the merchants' rush of buyers to the store counters was the most encouraging sign.

Denver Publisher Charges Conspiracy to Assure Award of Tea Pot Dome Oil Lease to Sinclair—Vote on Robinson Resolution in Senate This Afternoon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—A charge that Harry F. Sinclair, E. L. Doheny and "The Standard Oil" companies conspired to assure award of the Tea Pot Dome oil lease to Sinclair, was made before the senate oil committee today by Frederick C. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver Post.

Continuing his story of his connection with the group that held contesting claims in the Tea Pot Dome and disposed of them to Sinclair, the publisher asserted that in addition to the payments made to that group, the

BIG REAL ESTATE SALES REPORTED

The sale of three valuable residential properties, involving over $30,000, is reported through the office of Walter Guyette, auctioneer and realtor.

A new six-room house of high-grade construction, located at 14 Wedge street, one of the most popular residential sections of the Highlands district, was sold by James J. Doney to Mary C. Brennan, who purchased for personal occupancy. This house has only recently been completed and has in addition to a reception hall and sleeping porches. The approximate sale price was $10,000.

A large house and barn at 1099 Middlesex street was sold by Ethel G. Cheney to Dr. J. Alfred Giguere. This property is one of the landmarks in the Middlesex street section, having been built years ago. It has been remodelled recently and brought up to date in every particular. The price of the property was also approximately $10,000.

A six-tonement block at 97-99 Jewett street was sold recently by James F.

One of 24 Sticks of Dynamite Exploded, But Others Remained Undisturbed

Police Hunt for Former Owner, Who it is Said Threatened Purchaser of Property

EAST BRIDGEWATER, Feb. 9.—The partly built farmhouse of Rowland W. Watts, a school principal of Whitman, was badly damaged in an attempted dynamite explosion today. One of 24 sticks of dynamite exploded, and the others, carefully distributed through the cellar so as to demolish the building, remained undisturbed because a fire set to ignite their fuses had died down before reaching them.

The police immediately began a search for Michael Loughman who lived nearby and who they said threatened Watts last October when he visited the farm as a prospective purchaser.

Loughman, Chief of Police Everett Russell said, told Watts at that time that he wanted to buy the property and that he would befall Watts if he persisted in buying it. An hour or two later, it is alleged, Loughman hacked Watts' bicycle with his axe. A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he had disappeared and has never returned to his home. Watts later bought the farm and started to build a dwelling there.

From above a partly burned pile of oil-soaked shavings, four fuses led to two dynamite sticks. Others were placed at doorways and in windows, and one of the latter had gone off, the explosion carrying upward through the floors of the wooden building, creating havoc.

From the cellar door foot tracks, far apart and evidently those of a man, walking, led to a nearby swamp where they disappeared. The state police were summoned and aided the local officers in combing the neighborhood for the fugitive.

LOWELL'S MILK SUPPLY

Dracut Supplies 22 Per Cent of the 42,500 Quarts Consumed Here Daily

Forty-nine cities and towns in four New England states are daily supplying Lowell people with upwards of 42,500 quarts of milk and Dracut, just over the river, heads the list by producing 22 per cent of the entire supply. Not only does Dracut produce this big percentage of the milk consumed every day in the city, but it stands far above any other city or town in the list, Chelmsford ranking second with a percentage of 13.

Lowell milk comes from Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont, with the first named producing slightly more than 70 per cent of the supply. New Hampshire produces 12.12 per cent; 8.28 per cent comes from Vermont and 8.33 per cent from Maine, mostly from Auburn, Derby, Vt., sends down 7.24 per cent of the 5.98 per cent which comes from the Green Mountain state.

The town of Pelham sends more milk into Lowell than any other community in New Hampshire, its quota being 6.54 per cent of the entire supply. Other nearby towns contribute to the supply as follows: Dunstable, 5.13 per cent; Billerica, 6.5 per cent; Tewksbury, 6.4 per cent. Within the city limits there is enough milk produced to equal 6.32 per cent of the daily consumption.

The per capita consumption of milk in the city last year was approximately 12.07 ounces. According to records kept in the city hall office of Melvin Master, milk inspector, 23 dealers are now supplying the city with its milk.

PASSENGER TRAIN IS BURIED BY AVALANCHE

LINZ, Upper Austria, Feb. 9. (By the Associated Press).—An avalanche swept down upon the railway station at Hieflau last night, burying a passenger train and a carriage containing several persons.

Railroad men and neighboring villagers are hard at work digging out the train and rescuing the passengers. Telephone messages received here request the assistance of troops. No loss of life was mentioned in the message.

The avalanche, which was estimated to be a thousand feet long and fully 100 feet in depth, swept into the River Rhine after burying the train.

Constable Shot Dead—Deputy Sheriff Wounded—Hospital Fired Upon

HERRIN, Ills., Feb. 9.—(By the Associated Press).—Horrors, scene of the miners' riot of 1922, was taken over by state troops today as a result of a near riot last night, between "wets" and "drys," in which a constable was killed and a deputy sheriff wounded seriously.

The trouble is a result of the wholesale dry raids which have been conducted in this (Williamson) county recently by reputed members of the Ku Klux Klan, led by S. Glenn Young, paid employee of the Klan. A meeting of the Knights of the Flaming Circle, an anti-klan organization, was in session when a crowd stormed the hall. The shooting followed.

Constable Shot Dead

Caesar Cagle, a constable, who had been issuing the warrants on which the "drys" conducted the raids, was shot dead. John Layman, deputy sheriff, who, with Sheriff George Gulligan, went to the anti-klan meeting to urge the conferees to disperse and go to their homes in the interest of peace, was shot. He was taken to a local hospital by Mayor C. E. Anderson and Ora Thomas, an anti-klanman, and the trio is being guarded at the hospital by national guardsmen.

FOUR NEW NOMINATIONS SENT TO COUNCIL BY MAYOR

E. J. Donnelly for Purchasing Agent, Dr. M. A. Tighe as City Physician, J. G. Gordon for Moth Superintendent and Dr. W. A. Sherman Named Today

DR. MICHAEL A. TIGHE
Renominated as City Physician

EDWARD J. DONNELLY
Renominated as Purchasing Agent

Four new nominations for city positions were made today by Mayor John J. Donovan and filed with the clerk for presentation to the council at its meeting next Tuesday night.

The list is headed by Edward J. Donnelly, nominated for a term of two years to succeed himself as purchasing agent. As this is one of the most important municipal offices, its tenure has been the subject of speculation ever since the first of the year, but the renomination of Mr. Donnelly now clears the atmosphere and eliminates all other candidates who have been mentioned from time to time.

The other three nominations submitted today are: Dr. Michael A. Tighe, city physician for a term of two years to succeed himself; John G. Gordon, superintendent of moths for a term of one year, to succeed himself; the nomination being subject to confirmation by State Forester William A. L. Buzley; Dr. Walter A. Sherman, animal inspector for a term of two years, to succeed himself.

Special Meeting Monday
A special meeting of the city council will be held Monday night to act upon a venire of three jurors for civil superior court service.

BENNETT SILVERBLATT WILL PRESIDE

Bennett Silverblatt will preside at the mass meeting of citizens called for tomorrow afternoon at Liberty hall for the purpose of voicing protests to the Johnson immigration bill. The meeting will start at 2 o'clock and the principal speakers will be Mayor J. J. Donovan, E. J. Donnelly and Perry Thompson, and Albert Hurwitz, special assistant to Attorney General J. Weston Allen.

TO ARREST PURCHASERS OF BOOTLEG WHISKEY

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—Federal warrants for the arrest of alleged purchasers of whiskey were issued yesterday for the first time since the advent of prohibition, following the indictment of 27 persons on charges of conspiracy in a mail-order bootlegging scheme, the head of which was said to have been Isaac Bullant, of this city. Therefore federal authorities had begun their activities to vendors of illegal beverages.

Twenty-two of those named in the indictments were alleged customers of Bullant living in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, and Illinois cities and towns. Warrants were forwarded to United States marshals in their districts.

OIL REVELATIONS MAY DOOM WHAT CHANCE McADOO ONCE HAD

Leading Democrats Look Askance at Presidential Aspirations Since Sinclair Connection Became Known—Underwood and Pomerene Stocks Soar

(Special to The Sun.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 9.—With government flags at half staff, all government officials under the so-called 30-day mourning order of the president, Washington's gay season came to a sudden stop at the death of Woodrow Wilson. His death even stopped the flow of bitter partisanship that was turning congressional debate into what some styled "low-down political rallies." Wrangling over Teapot Dome, the Bak prize, the tax bill and other matters up for discussion was laid aside under an emotional even the political enemies of the former president joined in expressions of regret or eulogy. The common leveler, death, representing all bitterness and eliminating it from capital talk.

Mr. McAdoo's Status
What effect the death of Mr. Wilson will have on the presidential candidacy of Mr. McAdoo is not so ardent a topic of speculation as it might have been before the McAdoo association with the Sinclair oil companies came to the surface. It has long been known that Mr. Wilson did not favor the candidacy of McAdoo and moreover, those who viewed the former president at short range well knew that his health was such that he was leader "in name only."

But the Sinclair revelations have put Mr. McAdoo in quite a different status, according to general opinion here, although one or two democratic senators have remarked "it will make no difference."

Democrats who have urged punishment and rebuke for every man connected with the Harding cabinet, in-

For Children's Coughs and Colds

MOTHERS—DO THIS
Spread Camphorole well over throat and chest, cover with warm flannel. It soon penetrates and quickly breaks up a stubborn cough, or cold in throat or chest.
Croup? Sure, Camphorole is the healthiest and mildest remedy for Croup Spasmodic. It acts quickly, clearing out the breathing tubes, and enables the little sufferer to breathe easily with relief. Keep a jar handy. No telling when the kiddies awaken suddenly at night, and begin with a choking cough. Camphorole has a pleasant odor and will not stain.

cluding President Coolidge, on the ground that "they knew what was going on" are aghast at the revelation that one of their prospective candidates was associated with the oil company even though his connection has not the smirch of intrigue or dishonesty associated with it. People here are not questioning the right of Mr. McAdoo to accept the office of adviser but democratic supporters will not discriminate between a legitimate business connection with an oil corporation and the scandal in which certain other men are involved. There is no gainsaying the fact that the McAdoo presidential stock is on the bear side of the market at the capital at this moment, and that other candidates or prospective candidates are making the most of their opportunity.

Underwood Camp Relieves
The political friends of Senator Underwood of Alabama feel that their candidate has been driven far to the front in the past week, and rejoice that he has already stood the brunt of one presidential campaign—1912—and come through unscathed by scandal or mud slinging. It had been thought that Underwood would not figure largely in the first ballot but would come in strong as a compromise candidate. Now his friends are pushing him forward to a good place in the start.

Political predictions now bring to the front the name of Oscar Underwood of Alabama as a partial successor to Mr. McAdoo in leading on the first or second ballots at the New York convention. "At this moment it looks more like an open race than it did a few weeks ago," said former Senator Burke Smith of Georgia, member of the Cleveland cabinet, and a political leader in the democratic party.

"Mr. McAdoo's connection with the oil leases will undoubtedly dampen the ardor of many of his supporters. It will enhance the chance of all other candidates and the selection of Senator Pomerene of Ohio by President Coolidge to serve as investigation counsel in the oil cases will put him in much prominence and in my opinion throw another hat into the presidential ring."

Pomerene a Factor
It was said here two years ago that if Pomerene was out in the senatorial fight in Ohio, he would be a candidate for the presidency at the Democratic convention in 1924. But Pomerene lost out to Fess, republican, and not much has been heard of his prospective candidacy since then. Democrats like Pomerene and regard him as of presidential timber so it seems likely that after all, he may play a strong, if not a winning part, in the New York convention this summer. At this moment few if any prominent democrats will "name their man." Too many to determine the man or the issue is the reply to questions along that line. The republican tide is running strong for Coolidge, according to accounts from all over the country.

The capitol waited a long time for Senator Magnus Johnson to create a sensation and then it broke out in an unexpected spot. "Was not on the floor of the senate but in the 'caveau' of the press gallery where senators rarely venture to tread."

The half was not told in the scanty item that was published the next day. The "boys" are not apt to tell stories on themselves, but this is too good to keep dark on.

Magnus in a Rage

Mr. Johnson became violently angry at some comment a Minnesota newspaper correspondent had made on one of the Johnson pet bills. So up to the press gallery sped the short stout, dark farmer senator and lost no time in "taking it out" on the correspondent, in language so violent and epithets far "out of order" that in a jiffy a half hundred newspaper men surrounded him and cries of "throw him out" filled the air.

Then it was that the senate press gallery superintendent—Frank Jim Preston—took a hand in the scene. Preston is known and trusted by every prominent public man in the country—his Preston who rules the press at all the great national conventions; his Preston who has the privileges of the senate floor, in fact his Preston who "rules the room" in the parlance of way down east. So Preston stepped into the ring, took the angry senator firmly, but politely by the arm and conducted him back to the floor of the senate.

Was a Real Bad Boy

Now the newspaper men wonder what will happen on the coming national conventions when Johnson takes his seat in the press section. He has been engaged by a syndicate to cover the conventions, which is a nerve wearing game at the best. And the man who doesn't conform to strict rules must quit the job. Senators don't count. William J. Bryan, former secretary of the Navy, Daniels and Johnson are looked for the press section this year. The other two know the game and play it well, but what about Johnson?

Here and There

After the week of besmirching and partisan recrimination and death and sorrow, the award of a medal of honor to Commander Walter A. Edwards, U. S. N., came as a pleasant interlude. The award was made in honor of Edwards when commander of the U. S. S. Bainbridge in the Marmork sea in 1912. It was then that a French ship transport blew up and Edwards saved 432 lives by having his ship lashed to the burning transport in a heavy sea and in the midst of a raging December storm. President Coolidge planned the medal on the commandant's breast in the presence of Secretary Denby and members of the staff.

Archbishop Curley of Baltimore is urging women to discourage the militant movement under which women are entering politics and demanding "equal rights." In an address to several thousand women of the Catholic National Council delivered at Washington City club this week, the archbishop and other speakers at the meeting felt that the active work to be done by women if they entered active political life would be the means of breaking up the home life. The Rev. John J. Burke ended his address by saying:

"The equal rights bill as proposed will disrupt the sacred institution of marriage and disrupt many happy homes."

It will be recalled that the bill referred to would not make it necessary for women to assume the name of their husbands on marriage nor give the children of such marriage the name of their father. It includes other equal radical changes in domestic life.

If any of The Sun readers feel sick today they can console themselves that so do 3,000,000 other persons in the United States according to figures given out today by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Chicago health commissioner.

SISTER MARY'S BEST RECIPES

BY SISTER MARY
(Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.)

CAKE BAKING

These suggestions are in reply to a letter asking for help in cake making. First use the very best materials. Pastry flour is preferable to bread flour. Bread flour contains more gluten than pastry flour and less is needed to thicken the cake. Use two tablespoons less per cup of bread flour than the rule calls for.

Fine granulated sugar is more desirable than a coarse-grained granulated sugar. The coarse sugar makes a cake of coarse texture with a hard crust.

Combine carefully. There are several methods of combining ingredients. The whites and yolks are sometimes beaten separately and then mixed, the sugar added with the shortening softened, but not hot and oily. The flour and baking powder are sifted together and added alternately with the liquid.

Shortening

Or the shortening and sugar are beaten to a cream. To do this, work the shortening until creamy and soft side of the mixing bowl. Slowly beat in sugar. Before adding the yolks of the eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored I like to add about two tablespoons of sifted flour to the butter and sugar. Take this flour out after the measuring, before sifting the second time with baking powder.

Beat in yolks of eggs well beaten. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and a little salt. Add alternately with milk. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Turn into an oiled and floured cake pan and bake 20 to 30 minutes if a layer cake and 40 to 60 minutes if a loaf. The oven should be moderately hot.

Standard Rule

The standard rule that is most practical for every day use is this:

One-quarter to 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup liquid, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cups flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

The liquid can be sweet milk, cream, water, sour milk or sour cream. When sweet or sour cream is used the amount of shortening should be reduced to three tablespoons. Add

BOY SCOUT TROOP OF ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

The regular weekly meeting of Troop 31, Lowell council, Boy Scouts of America was held in the St. Patrick's school hall, Thursday evening. Two patrols were formed and tenderfoot examinations were given the boys. A short telegraph line was set up, with two receiving and two sending sets, and messages in the Morse code were sent between two groups of the scouts. Scoutmaster J. Sexton, supervised the work, and were greatly pleased with the progress made by the boys. Only four boys more are needed to complete the enrollment of the troop. Fr. McElmough, head of all the troops in St. Patrick's church, addressed the boys, several burning matches between members of the troop were held for the purpose of instruction.

One-quarter teaspoon soda to sour milk or cream and use but one tablespoon baking powder.

Push mixture well up on the sides of the pan, leaving less batter in the center. This insures an even top when baked.

Put the cake in the center of the oven, providing an even temperature on all sides. Let rise to full height before moving. Do not let a draft of cold air strike the cake while baking, so open the oven door with care. (Copyright, 1924, The Lowell Sun)

Safe Fat Reduction

Reduce, refine, reduce, is the slogan of all fat people. Get thin, be slim, is the cry of fashion and society. And the perfecting of their hands in mortification and helplessness, revolting at nauseating drugs, afraid of violent exercise, avoiding the unwholesome and unsatisfying diet, until they hit upon the harmless Marmola Prescription and learn through it that they may safely reduce steadily and easily without one change in their mode of life, but harmlessly, secretly, and quickly reaching their ideal of beauty, with a smoother skin, better appetite and health than they have ever known. And now comes Marmola Prescription Tablets from the same famous harmless formula as the Marmola Prescription. It behooves you to learn the satisfactory, beneficial effects of this great, safe, fat-reducing remedy by trying to your druggist one dollar for a box or sending a like amount to the Marmola company, 4012 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich., with a request that they mail to you a box of Marmola Prescription Tablets. —Adv.

ChairmanBENJAMIN S. POUZNER
Secretary

A committee of 35 citizens will be in charge of the Woodrow Wilson memorial service to be held at the Auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, Feb. 17, at 3:30 o'clock. A permanent organization of such a committee was effected yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at City hall, where Rev. Appleton Grannis, pastor of St. Anne's church, was chosen chairman; Hon. James E. O'Donnella, vice chairman; and Benjamin S. Pouzner, secretary.

In an effort to secure a prominent man as the principal speaker at the exercises, a committee consisting of Rev. Arthur McGuffey, Jr., Philip E. Marden and Andrew E. Barrett was named, the selection of an orator to be left in their hands. Already the names of Sherman L. Whipple, Hiram Perry, Robert Lincoln O'Brien, Albert Bushnell Hart, Albert H. Crocker and Judge Charles A. de Courcy have been mentioned as possibilities.

HOLD MEETING

The board of trustees of the Memorial Auditorium met this afternoon for the purpose of approving applications for the use of the main hall and Liberty hall. Notice has been received that the date of Feb. 13, which had been granted the Knights of Columbus to hold a presentation of automobiles as prizes in the campaign which is being held to raise funds for their new building, will remain open as the event has been indefinitely postponed.

Dates which were approved include the following: Feb. 13, mass meeting of the Hebrews of Lowell, in protest against the present restrictions imposed by the immigration laws; Hon. Harry D. Thompson, principal speaker; Feb. 13, Lowell Teachers' organization, illustrated lecture, free to the public in Liberty hall; Feb. 17, memorial exercises for Woodrow Wilson, under direction of a citizens' committee; Feb. 18, annual meeting and dinner of the Lowell chamber of commerce; Feb. 20, four local lodges of the Knights of Pythias, lecture, entertainment and dance; Feb. 22, final Irish entertainment for children in afternoon; March 17, United Irish societies concert and dance; April 23, Boston College club of Lowell, dance; May 11, afternoon lecture under the auspices of the Christian Science society.

outside the hospital and began firing into the institution. Persons inside the hospital responded to the fire and a miniature battle waged for a short time.

Raiders Patrol Streets

Before the arrival of the troops the raiders, armed with revolvers and shotguns, patrolled the streets of Haverhill, denying anyone they considered "suspicious" to pass. All unable to give the Klan password were searched for weapons. Before attacking the hospital, the mob shot out the street lights so those within the institution could not see where to aim.

Panic in Hospital

A number of patients in the hospital became panic-stricken and were reported as highly nervous today. The first guardsmen arrived from Cambridge at 4 a. m. and the "rays" of the established headquarters at the city hall, several blocks from the hospital. The guardsmen are patrolling the hospital to protect the mayor, Layman and Thomas.

Cult for Lynchings

Five companies of troops had arrived this forenoon. The crowd which visited the meeting hall of the anti-klansmen, were headed by three of the four policemen of Haverhill, and when shouts of "lynch them," "string 'em up," were heard, Sheriff Gallegan commanded an automobile and rushed the trio to Murphy's, to protect them. The three are: Chief of Police John Ford and Policemen Harold Train and Sam Stephens.

A number of windows in the hospital were shot out, and the building showed other "battle scars" such as bullet-punctured drain pipes and wall-surfing. At its height, Leonard Sterns, deputy circuit clerk and son of Cyclone Sam Sterns, was fired on as he was riding in an automobile in Marion, the county seat.

A bullet grazed his back but he was not injured seriously. He is the Klan candidate for circuit clerk. An automobile owned by John W. Whitehead, also an admitted member of the Klan, was fired on at the same time.

trolley traffic report for the day will show more passengers carried than on any pleasant Saturday within the year. And the shoppers came also on foot and in autos as well as on the cars. At noon the downtown streets were well filled with Saturday shoppers attracted by the additional lure of dollar day bargains. At mid-afternoon the shoppers were still jamming the streets and stores, seemingly ever increasing in number. Theaters did the usual capacity business and yet knowing that so many thousands were still indoors the average person paused for a moment to "wonder where they all come from."

Secretary-Manager George F. Wells, of the chamber of commerce was beaming broadly this morning as he heard the early comers from the stores. The "sure fire success" was not doubted for a moment from the time the doors opened. Flushed with the pleasure of the success of several weeks of preparation he placed the main credit for the success to the pulling power of advertising.

"The merchants individually and the chamber of commerce as a body did not discount the chances of putting the day over high," he said. "We not only advertised extensively in the newspapers but used posters and the trolley cars as well. No advertising bids that we thought feasible were overlooked.

That the trolley business picked up wonderfully today was manifested on the suburban runs particularly. Crowds of persons came from Ayer and other suburban communities to attend the sales. The wisdom of advertising in the Nashua papers was also seen, as a score of New Hampshire cars being parked in the retail district during the day and the occupants enjoying a shopping tour.

The sale is expected to leave a pleasant after-taste in that all of the merchants were careful to make attractive specials for the day and make certain that it was evident that full value or better was given in every transaction.

INDIAN COMMUNICATION AND MUSIC BY RADIO

Through the courtesy and co-operation of Arthur C. Parker, New York state archaeologist, the radio audience will be given the opportunity to hear from radiophone WJAZ at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., on Monday evening, February 15, about 10 o'clock, the musical instruments used by the Iroquois Indians in their ceremonies. This demonstration will be in connection with an address on "Aboriginal Methods of Communication" by Dr. Parker, during which the sounds of the various Indian instruments used in distant communications will be produced before the microphone. Following the address the interpretation of native Indian music will be given by Mrs. Arthur C. Parker and Robert Kerr Colville, the latter the composer of the Indian romantic opera "Tuchetia," which is shortly to be produced in a metropolitan theatre. The songs will include "Cradle Song," "Blackfoot War Chant," "Blackfoot Love Song," "The Mosquito Song of the Mohawks," "Ojibway Death Song" and "Winnebago Cradle Song."

The problem of the great bulk of misdirected or improperly addressed mail which every year goes to the dead letter office after all efforts to reclaim it have proved futile has long engaged the attention of postal authorities. Many thousands of dollars in actual cash, besides great quantities of articles of value, are included in this "dead letter" mail, and more often the failure of this matter to reach its proper destination is due to carelessness rather than ignorance. Postmaster Cornelius V. Collins of the Troy, N. Y., postoffice has been making a study of this problem and will offer some valuable suggestions for a campaign of education in the proper use of the mails in an address on "Use and Abuse of the United States Mail Service" which he will deliver by radio from station WJAZ at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy next Monday evening, February 11, at about 10 o'clock.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Details of a nation-wide campaign to foster interest in the co-operative marketing movement were discussed by various speakers at the closing session today of the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Association. L. F. McKay, director of the department of information of the American Cotton Growers' Exchange, advocated the cultivation of the good will of the world by the growers' co-operative movement, the way of the co-operative organization easier and to induce business interests to help in extending membership.

RENEW FIGHT TO SAVE ANDERSON

Head of Anti-Saloon League

Sentenced to Sing Sing

Prison on Forgery Charge

Stay of Execution on Plea

for Certificate of Reasonable Doubt

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A stiff fight, it was asserted today, will be made to keep William H. Anderson, who was reported last night as having resigned as state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, from going to Sing Sing prison to which he was sentenced yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Tompkins for forging the books of that organization.

Arguments will be heard next Friday by Supreme Court Justice Wagner for a certificate of reasonable doubt, which former Gov. Charles S. Whitman, chief of the Williamson county grand jury upon a charge of possessing illicit liquor in his home. Frick, who is a supervisor from Herrin township, former Herrin police officer, denied having liquor in his home and alleges that he was "framed."

He was taken to West Frankfort and held there without bail until the United States commissioner at Benton ordered his release. It is claimed in order that the grand jury might act. This action is alleged to have caused the tension existing in the county.

Second Time Troops Called

This is the second time troops have been called to Williamson county. Before withdrawal of troops on Jan. 18, Sheriff John Galligan had asked the co-operation of the citizens of the county before requesting their recall. As a result of his request, the citizens of the county pledged themselves to support the sheriff and other county officials and John Ford of Herrin was appointed chief of police to supplement John Stallions, the former chief. Other members of the police force were also replaced.

Chief Ford acknowledged support of the Klan and the Klan at that time pledged its support to Sheriff Galligan.

While the darkened streets in Herrin were reported filled with groups of armed men early this morning, the foreign section of the city was quiet and seemingly unaware of the situation.

Dry Officer Blamed for Trouble

Definite information as to developments, was refused. Reports indicated, however, that the present trouble was a fight for the control of the city between the Knights of the Flaming Circle and the Ku Klux Klan, with the latter reported to be in control at an early hour this morning.

Justice of the Peace Cagle has been active in the Klan raids and warrants were issued by him against those whose homes have been searched.

Deputy Sheriff Layman with Sheriff Galligan, had declared himself as an opponent of the Klan.

Shoot Only When Necessary

HERRIN, Ill., Feb. 9. (By the Associated Press.)—Headquarters company of the 130th Illinois Infantry of Carbondale arrived in Herrin at 3.30 o'clock this morning. The company is commanded by Major Robert W. Davis, who issued orders to his men to use sound judgment and to shoot only when necessary.

Sheriff Shot—Hospital Fired Upon

CARBONDALE, Ill., Feb. 9. (By the Associated Press.)—The hospital in Herrin in which Deputy Sheriff John Layman was taken following his shooting last night, was fired upon early this morning, according to reports received here. Shooting was reported to have ceased at 2.30 o'clock this morning. Klansmen are organizing in Williamson, Franklin and adjoining counties preparing for a march on Herrin, it was reported.

At 2.30 o'clock this morning, the Ku Klux Klan were reported in complete control of Herrin. Patrols were on the streets, refusing entrance and exit to the city. They were reported parading the streets armed with revolvers, shotguns and weapons of all kinds. The city hall had been established as headquarters. The agitation is said to have centered about the disappearance of three Herrin police officers, whom the Klansmen allege were kidnapped by the sheriff.

More Troops Called

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 9.—Four additional companies of state militiamen were ordered to Herrin, Ill., early today when Carlos Black, state adjutant general, was informed by Col. A. L. Culbertson, his representative at Herrin that the trouble growing out of feeling engendered by dry raids had assumed the proportions of a riot. Five companies of guardsmen previously had been ordered to Herrin.

Cavalry was included in the second group of guardsmen ordered to Herrin. Troops F and G and the headquarters troops of the 106th cavalry, all of Springfield, being ordered to enroute as quickly as possible. Company C of the 130th Infantry, also of Springfield, made the sixth company of infantrymen ordered on duty.

of Mr. Anderson's attorneys, began to seek immediately after sentence had been pronounced. The move for the certificates was the first toward an appeal.

Should Justice Wagner refuse the certificate, Anderson, it was understood, would have to go to Sing Sing without delay to begin his term of between one and two years. But should it be granted, the way would be paved for an appeal and he probably would continue at liberty in the $5000 bail in which he was freed yesterday, until a new trial was held.

The minimum time Anderson would serve is nine months and 20 days on the provision that good behavior brings commutation. Unless the verdict is reversed, Anderson will lose his citizenship and be considered a felon under the law.

It was understood that the district attorney's office would hold over him four other indictments returned against him, charging grand larceny and extortion. The indictment upon which he was convicted alleged he forced the books by transferring money from the salary account to the expense account of O. Beissell Phillips, a fund collector.

Resignation Accepted

GLOVERVILLE, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The resignation of William H. Anderson, as superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was accepted at a meeting of the league's board of directors held in New York city Tuesday, Feb. 5. This statement was made early today by Rev. William C. Spicer, vice-president of the Anti-Saloon league in New York state and pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Gloversville.

Franklin and adjoining counties to aid in the holding of Herrin, it was reported. Klansmen allege that Cagle was attacked and shot by a group of men. The Herrin police then received a riot call, according to Klansmen and the shooting of Layman took place at that time.

Col. Culbertson Directs Troops

Col. A. L. Culbertson, who arrived in Marion Friday morning for an investigation of conditions in the county, has been ordered to take charge of the troops.

Sheriff Galligan stated that Layman was shot at a meeting that he, Galligan, had called in an effort to restore order.

"The Klansmen here sought to prevent a gathering of their members, but the roads were crowded as car after car of men was rushed to Herrin from all over the county."

Wednesday of this week, S. Glenn Young, dry leader and leader of the Klan, arrested R. C. Frick, foreman of

MASONIC CHOR CONCERT

Y. M. C. I. Brings Elsie Janis Here

Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt in the Paramount Picture "Don't Call It Love," a William de Mille Production.

The Merrimack Square theatre program for the first four days of the coming week, beginning with Sunday, is one that should meet with the enthusiastic approval of all movie fans in Lowell and vicinity. Two of the biggest attractions of the season have been booked by Manager Peterson. They are "Don't Call It Love," the noted William de Mille production of modern life with such stars as Jack Holt, Agnes Ayres and Nita Naldi, and "Odds Are Even," an entertaining and lively presentation with William Russell, virile star, in the featured role.

"Don't Call It Love" is a story of love and artistic temperament treated in the customary high class de Mille style. It was produced by Mr. de Mille from Julian Street's best selling novel, "Rita Coventry." Later the story was dramatized and played in New York—all within 12 months.

Like all of William de Mille's pictures, this production fairly flows with class. The skilled life of the rich at their country houses, "back stage" with the temperamental and beautiful opera star and love-making within her boudoir, the clash of two beautiful women, one famous for her loves and the other a modest girl, for the same man—that's the atmosphere of "Don't Call It Love."

The beauty of William de Mille pictures is that they appeal to the masses and classes alike. They don't depend on slandering vaudeville. They take it for granted that people have brains.

Never has a picture story been interpreted by a cast of more popular players than that which distinguishes "Don't Call It Love." They are Agnes Ayres, Jack Holt, Nita Naldi, Theodore Knott and Rod in Roquie. Miss Ayres, dainty Paramount star, has a large following which was vastly augmented by her success in "The Heart Breaker," "The Heart Breaker" and "The Marriage Maker." Miss Naldi, one of the most alluring figures of the American screen, proved her brilliant artistry in "Blood and Sand," "Lawful Larceny" and many other screen classics. Mr. Knott is a thoroughly artistic player whose comeliness never was displayed to finer advantage than in this delightful production. Mr. in Roquie, a handsome young actor, returns to Paramount productions in "Don't Call It Love."

Here's the story—Rita Coventry is a poor girl with a rich voice and marvellous beauty. Going to Atlantic City, after ten years' study in Paris where her friends had sent her, in company with Parrish, she meets a handsome young Irishman who comes to tune the piano in her hotel suite. Her vanity and lustre are ignored and this pleases her. She is a pianist and composer and induces him to play for her. He is wonderful. She falls for him, ignoring Parrish's new, Delaney, however, is still contemptuous. But in the end Rita "lands him" and Richard, seeing the folly of his actions, returns shame-faced to Alice and pleads with her to receive him back—and she does so.

"Odds Are Even," the other feature for the first part of the week, introduces William Russell in one of the best productions in which that star has ever appeared. It is a comedy with "punch" and action from start to finish. Mr. Russell has an able supporting cast.

A comedy and the latest International News will complete the photographic program. And don't forget the Merrimack Square musical program. They form a most enjoyable part of every performance.

Madeline Boland at Rialto Sunday

A SCENE FROM "YOUR FRIEND AND MINE"

Madeline Boland, well known local songstress and old time Rialto favorite, will once again be seen behind the footlights at the popular Rogers square theatre. Miss Boland is presenting her brand new vaudeville offering in which she is appearing. No doubt many of her friends will flock to the Rialto to see her. Other acts on the bill include Fliz and Bigelow in a screaming act, called "The Long and Short of It." These men are two ex-tramps. One is very tall, while the other is very short, and together they make a hilarious combination. Crystal and Anderson, in "Ain't She Dumb?" and "The Kid Reporter," Baby Peggy, in "The Kid Reporter," a golden attraction, starring Alfred Lunt.

Richard Talmadge, "the human dynamo," or better still known as "the man who knows no fear" and who made such a big hit in "The Speed King" and "Through the Flames," is once again on the Rialto screen and this time in a picture that is said to eclipse all his other pictures in thrills, stunts and excitement. As everyone already knows, young Dick Talmadge is a protégé of Douglas Fairbanks, but he has become a greater athlete than his father. He is a veritable jumping-jack, running through a series of hair-raising stunts with the agility of a deer and with the speed that seems supernatural. He really has to be seen to be appreciated.

In his new picture, "Danger Ahead," Talmadge plays a dual role, a man that requires much skill and splendid acting. If one were to describe the story, even briefly, it would spoil the whole picture, as it is a mysterious story that holds the spectators in constant doubt as to "who's who" and "what's what." Suffice it to say, that with Talmadge in the leading role of a story that concerns the underworld, a well planned crime that was nipped in the nick of time and other interesting events, that

GRANGE MEMBERS SEE SWEET PLAY

A meeting of Chelmsford Grange was held Thursday evening with the new master, Frank J. Lupton, presiding. There was a large attendance and considerable business was transacted. During the lecture's hour a play, entitled "No Cure, No Pay," was put on by members of the grange. Following this a supper was served and this in turn was followed by general dancing.

SELECTMEN ORGANIZE
Recent board of selectmen have organized for 1924, electing Bert A. Clout, chairman, Joseph P. Varnum secretary and Hiram E. Lincoln as third member.

PORTER J. WHITE AT R. F. KEITH'S

The Sunday bill at the R. F. Keith's theatre will be a remarkable one in every way. New acts for the day will be Barbour & Lynn, in singing and comedy; Ray Black, an unusually fetching singer; and Smith & West, whose musical act is a strikingly good one. Also there will be presented Moore & Freed, with their unique musical act; Nan Traveller, a spirited singer of songs; and Westfield's Radio show. The day's picture will be "Jacqueline, or Blazing Barriers," with Marguerite Courtot, Edmund Breese, Lew Cody, Effie Shannon and Kate Bruce in the cast.

The coming week's bill is specially attractive.

Nal and Enrie Stanton, who are in a class by themselves and who are sometimes called "English Boys Born in America," will tickle the palate of the fastidious who enjoy their fun served in a different manner. Some writer has called their act "English as it is not spoken." The fact remains that the brothers are in a class by themselves. Their frolicking is always up-to-date and they seem never at a loss to turn their fun into new channels.

Charlotte Lansing, who calls herself "The New Prima Donna," will appear in a series of songs specially written for her by Harry Delf and with Miss Myrtha Alambra at the piano. Miss Lansing has devoted much of her time to the voice and she has had much experience. Her voice is a pure soprano of wide range and she sings with feeling and expression.

In-laws are supposed to be responsible for most of the domestic trouble. Billy DuVal and Merle Symonds offer a skill called "Her Father."

In which the paternal-in-law is responsible for a lot of fun. Billy DuVal and Merle Symonds are making their first tour in vaudeville after several seasons of marked success in musical comedy.

Porter J. White will appear in his triumph, "The Visitor," a sketch which for 25 minutes will run the whole gamut of emotions. Mr. White has sought the legitimate stage for a brief season. The strange, mysterious atmosphere of the sketch will simply compel attention. It is one of the best things of a legitimate nature done in vaudeville in years.

Kaufman and Lamm, a chap and a maid, will sing, dance and talk, and they call their packet of entertainment "Fair and Feathers." The title of the act isn't the important thing. Importance attaches itself to the very clever work which the pair offer.

The Ishikawa brothers, four supple sons of Japan, are exceptional equilibrists. Their feats are of the astounding variety and their concluding work is highly sensational.

The picture for the week will be "The Man from Brothways," made from the highly successful novel of the same name by George Barr McCutcheon. It is an all-around picture, dealing with a young American who is entangled in court intrigue and is put to the supreme test to save the girl he loves. The hand-to-hand encounter is a thrilling affair and one of the best of the kind in the history of the screen. It is an extraordinary one, holding such film stars as J. Warren Kerrigan, Alice Calhoun, Wanda Hawley, Miss DuPont, Pat O'Malley and Kathleen Key.

Is he a woman or is she a man? A woman vanishes! A strange man appears! Was there foul play? Or is this man and woman one and the same person. Here is a mystery that stirred two continents as it will stir you. See "Ponjala," Cynthia Stockley's great story.

It is a story of a woman who is kidnapped and presented at "The Strand" for four days, beginning with Matinee on Sunday. In it Anna Q. Nilsson portrays one of her most interesting and entertaining roles, and she is assisted by a cast that includes James Kirkwood, Tully Marshall and others.

Katherine MacDonald, long recognized as the screen's most charming personality, will be presented in "Chastity," a story of life behind the scenes. A comedy and weekly will contribute to a program of wide variety and genuine pleasure.

"Ponjala" is an adaptation of Cynthia Stockley's famous novel and is described as "a real proof film material." The reflection of the book story is faithfully and correctly depicted on the screen. The hundreds of thousands of book readers who enjoyed "Ponjala" will find in the screen version even more pleasure than was had in its original form. The story concerns a young woman who is about to end her life via suicide when she is met by a young and prosperous Englishman who persuades her of her folly. She learns that he is engaged to a young woman of his own social set but later is deceived by her, learning that he has come from Paris to the section of South Africa and there has become a victim of Ponjala, the native drink, the girl goes there and in the disguise of a man, hires out in his concern. Here she learns of the intrigue of others to not only make sure of the young man's sweetheart deceit, but also of the physical breakdown of the young man himself. Through a series of adventures and situations that startle and thrill, the young man is brought to his senses and back to his wealth. When the time comes for the reunion of the young Englishman and his first sweetheart, he awakens to his real feelings for the girl who made such sacrifices for him and turns to her instead of his first love. Miss Nilsson portrays the role of the young girl with fidelity and faithfulness and reflects once again her exceptional qualifications as a screen star. James Kirkwood is always commendable, while Tully Marshall, James Kirkwood and others are also praiseworthy.

Katherine MacDonald is "Chastity," a true and forceful reflection of the life of an actress behind the scenes. What is the price of world applause? You will find the answer in this story. Don't miss seeing it. The remainder of the bill has a high-class comedy and weekly.

AT LINCOLN HALL

Horley's orchestra has been engaged to play for dancing at Lincoln hall tonight and the return engagement will be welcomed by patrons of this hall. This orchestra is widely known, having played in several New England cities and has been in Lowell on several occasions. During the evening members of the organization will offer many new novelties in the vaudeville line and a most pleasant evening's entertainment is assured to those attending. All the latest dance hits are featured while some new fox trot numbers will be introduced.

Event on Feb. 22 to Be Enhanced by Appearance of Jeanette Vreeland

The most interesting program of male choir work ever given in the city is promised for the Masonic choir concert to be given at the Auditorium on the evening of the 22d.

Lowell has come to expect unusually fine things of the Masonic choir, based on previous concerts, and because of this particular care has been shown this season in the selection and preparation of a program. The choir is in weekly rehearsal and has been for some time and there can be but one result—an excellent program, faultlessly given under Mr. Brown's direction.

The choir will not be alone that night. For it has engaged as a soloist and assisting artist, Jeanette Vreeland, New York soprano of wide accomplishments, of whom critics have spoken kindly ever since her debut.

Recently the Buffalo Evening News said of her:

"Miss Vreeland is thoroughly interesting and always artistic. She has a brilliant soprano voice which adapts itself equally well to graceful lyric utterance and to dramatic style. She is vocally commanding and her style is authoritative. She uses her voice admirably and projects each song in a convincing manner."

The associate members of the choir had first opportunity today to exchange their membership for two reserved seats. Their limited sale will extend for one week, or until the public sale begins at Steinert's on Saturday, the 15th.

Reliable reports from New York indicate that Florence Gallo, doughty little impresario of the famous San Carlo Grand Opera company, some time ago, has this season raised his nationally popular organization to a place among the clouds. It would seem that the San Carlo has "fully arrived." The artistic personnel this year is as high perfect as could be asked of an enterprise surviving a time of unusually popular prices, and on top of this Mr. Gallo has not neglected a good showman's maxim of "give them their money's worth, and a little more." This is palpably evident in his having provided beautiful new scenery, splendid and colorful costumes imported from the countries in which the opera stories take place; and in his engaging only the most pleasing artists, and enlarging his already large brilliant chorus and orchestra. It is pronounced that Lowell is to enjoy the season's finest musical entertainment when the San Carlo comes to the Auditorium on Monday evening, February 18.

For dramatic unity and the quality of its effects, the San Carlo company is probably unsurpassed in this country. Other companies may have the greater number of famous stars, but none has a higher general personnel. The San Carlo is the only permanently organized touring grand opera company in America, and it has added the stamp of metropolitan approval by its five weeks season in New York at the magnificent Century opera house, opposite Central park. Packed houses attended every performance here, and on more than sixteen occasions during the five weeks season, hundreds were turned away long before the curtain went up.

This is to be grand opera's biggest year. From the newspapers and musical journals of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, and the many cities visited by the San Carlo company, it is apparent that the American public has developed an appetite for grand opera that will make the season of 1923-1924 a red letter year for opera. And Lowell is to have a seat at the first table for the feast of opera, when the San Carlo arrives here.

Miss Tamara Mura, the famous Japanese songbird, whose voice has been praised in almost every part of the world, will sing the title role in "Madame Butterfly," and Colin Kirkwood, a Lowell favorite, who appeared in the Auditorium in concert programs twice last season, will sing the role of the dashing American naval officer.

Lowell is really behind the project to have a real "grand opera night" here the 18th. The chamber of commerce, stores and other agencies are co-operating to put the affair over with a bang and judging from the speed with which tickets are selling at children's theatre department, a highly representative audience will enjoy the performance.

POINSETTIA GIRLS HAVE FINE PARTY

The third annual party of the Poinsettia Girls was given in Associate hall last evening and proved most successful, both socially and financially. Last evening's party was under the direction of Miss Marion Cashman, president. Miss Zita Bond, treasurer, Miss Mary Brown, secretary, Miss Mary Brooks, Miss Alice Corkery and Miss Nora Cummings.

BIG GRAND OPERA NIGHT HERE FEBRUARY 18

MISS ELSIE JANIS

If she were forced to give up the stage and engage in some other line of work (which is hardly likely in view of her long years of success and frugality), Elsie Janis, who makes her debut as a concert artist in this city next Thursday night at the Auditorium, could make her living in three or four different ways. She could, for instance, write popular music. Lyric, teach stage dancing, design costumes, or become a model—all pleasant and lucrative vocations. She could, if necessary, join the stage hands' union and become a stage manager or master electrician.

With the enfranchisement of women, a political victory and the fulfillment of a century old struggle for women suffrage came the democratization of business, giving women equal rights and equal pay for equal service. Women everywhere have taken advantage of the new order of things, and today every business in the land not only recognizes women, their fitness and their ability to assimilate the complexities of commercial and financial pursuits, but it is a fact that women have actually taken the leadership in many fields of business activity. Miss Janis is here under the auspices of the Y. M. C. I., and seats for her concert are on sale at Steinert's.

"The only branch of our law making system in which I am interested is the one having to do with income and working conditions for women and children," Miss Janis told this reporter. "I am not so keen about who is elected to office or how he gets there, but I am concerned with how he solves measures designed to lighten the burden and better the conditions of women obliged to work for a living."

"Much has been accomplished along these lines in the last few years. Employers themselves at last have come to realize that better pay and better surroundings and shorter hours are more profitable than the old slave methods that crushed the very souls out of the poor workers and reduced their productivity."

"These are the laws which interest me and I think women have done more in the last few years to bring about these conditions than was done before in the history of the country. Much more along these lines will be done in the future and it will be done by women themselves, not by employers or man-made laws."

"While it is true that women have a firmer place in the professions and big business today than ever before, occupying high offices and receiving enormous salaries, I don't believe those women are very different from the women of fifty years ago. The country is larger and the demands greater, thus opportunities are now offered the educated woman in business—opportunities that never existed for her mother or grandmother. I can't bear the bias drum very hard for this type of woman worker. The women who devote their time and money to promote better conditions for the women and children in the factories are the ones who are doing the big things in this country today. That is what I expect to do some day. To my mind, that is the greatest work in the world—to do something to make life easier and happier for the poor, especially women and children."

These are the sentiments of one whose whole life has been devoted to making people happy and who herself would appear to have no a care. Steinert's is handling the tickets for her concert.

They needn't be Turkish cigarettes, but Elsie Janis is smoking 'em Turkish fashion if she's right up to the minute. These two Washington girls, Blanche Gervais and Jacqueline Hunter, are demonstrating how the "hookah" adapts itself to American custom.

CAKE SALE WAS A BIG SUCCESS

A cake sale, the proceeds of which will be donated to the fund for the carrying out of the St. Patrick's day program was held in the Gagnon Co. establishment yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Irish societies.

Over 200 cakes were donated by the members and their friends, and the cake table directly in the centre also of the main entrance of the store was the scene for busy housewives bent on purchasing sweets and dainties for dinner and supper. The sale, which opened at 1 o'clock, was most successful and at the end of the afternoon the workers felt amply repaid for the weeks of planning previous to yesterday's sale.

Together with the cakes, cookies and other products of culinary art, were

THE SPELLBINDER

For the reason that interest is focused on the coming national conventions of the great political parties, one does not hear so much as might be expected of the coming United States senatorial contest in this state. At this time it is only fair to assume that Senator David I. Walsh, who has rendered such a successful and honorable stewardship, will be the honorable nominee to succeed himself. The republicans will probably choose between William M. Butler and Louis A. Coolidge for his opponent. Mr. Butler is a millionaire, an old money man, a manufacturer, a manufacturer and a big interest man. He is absolutely against the veterans, insofar as their claim for adjusted compensation is concerned. Mr. Coolidge, a big interest man and a bright light in the national commerce chamber, which is also against the veterans' man, can fairly be assumed as in doubt the same as Mr. Butler.

The last issue of the American Legion Weekly at hand, and the Legion is non-political, makes it plain that David I. Walsh is an ever out to protect, to conserve and to improve and insure the rights and hopes of the veterans. Mr. Butler, to speak frankly, is not. He is shown in another light.

Speaking of President Coolidge, the weekly says: "He is a candidate to succeed himself and his personal campaign manager in the pre-nominal contest which is well underway. Mr. Butler, a millionaire manufacturer of New England, Mr. Butler is out to interest men with money in the candidacy of his aspirant for the presidency. He is out to convince such men that Mr. Coolidge is safe and sane, as men with money understand those terms. Big business is against adjusted compensation and Mr. Coolidge has turned against it. This affords Mr. Butler a powerful talking point.

"Understand me, I do not mean to insinuate anything improper about Mr. Butler's support of the candidacy of Mr. Coolidge. Mr. Coolidge has a perfect right to run for president and Mr. Butler has a perfect right to support him. I know how adverse the legion is to discussing political matters. We are a non-political organization, and we try to avoid even the appearance of evil in that regard. But

I have set out to tell you the truth about the adjusted compensation fight, and the whole truth about it, and I cannot do that without bringing in incidentally these political angles. Unfortunately politics and political considerations—which are quite proper things in themselves—are playing a role which cannot be overlooked in the settlement of this purely economic and non-political issue of justice to the veterans of the World War. So, Mr. Butler, by reason of all this, has become a real factor in our situation.

"Mr. Mellon in addition to being the secretary of the treasury and the president's adviser on government financial matters, also is deeply interested in pre-nominal politics at present. Furthermore, he is the administration's swordbearer in the open fight against adjusted compensation. Mr. Mellon's business sagacity has won for him a high place in the select councils of the big industrial groups whose support is now being solicited in the interest of more than one candidate for the presidency. But Mr. Mellon is loyal to his chief. He is working with Mr. Butler."

So, that is another angle of who this William M. Butler is. The story is told by Aaron Spina, chairman of the national legislative committee of the legion. The voters of Massachusetts will not fail to express to Mr. Butler, through the medium of the polls, just what they think of the millionaire manufacturer and his adjusted compensation. But Mr. Mellon is loyal to his chief. He is working with Mr. Butler."

Jackson Against Fuller
It is interesting to note that State Treasurer James Jackson will oppose Lieut. Gov. Fuller for the republican nomination in the September primary. Of the two right now everything looks rosy for Mr. Fuller when he has had nothing to say has kept his tongue quiet. Mr. Jackson, with nothing to talk about, has been over the state about the textile schools. He thinks they should be finished upon the mills to keep. Mr. Jackson has got to change his position on the textile school question before he can find himself taken seriously in the real big cities outside of Boston.

HUNT SLAYER OF ACTRESS

New York Police Seek Haunts of Bootleggers in Hope of Finding Murderers

Two Men Visited Apartment Shortly Before Miss Lawson Was Found Slain

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A dragnet of police and detectives today was stretched to all of the city's known haunts of bootleggers in an effort to find two men who visited the luxurious West 77th street apartment of Louise Lawson, pretty and 24 years old, shortly before the young woman was found yesterday morning bound and gagged on her bed, gagged and strangled to death.

Clad in daily night clothes, the body was found in a tastefully decorated room, the disorder of which indicated a spirited struggle with her assailants. Furniture lay overturned; jewel boxes were empty of their contents which police believe contained a platinum bracelet, said to be worth $5000; vases containing freshly cut roses were tipped over.

On a dresser stood a photograph of an army officer and one of Gerard M. Dahl, chairman of the executive committee of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit corporation, lawyer and broker, who police learned had been interested in the young woman.

Thomas Kane, elevator man, furnished the police with their most valuable clue to the slayers—a description of two men who said they were expressionless, who visited the apartment early yesterday. One carried a brown bag.

On emerging from Miss Lawson's apartment fifteen minutes after they had entered, Kane told the police he had overheard one of the men grumble: "She wanted Scotch and here I am with an armful of eye." A neighbor heard the men announce to Miss Lawson that they were expressionless. Police advanced the theory that they were bootleggers who had been attracted by jewels. Miss Lawson wore and had other articles they had seen in her apartment; robbery they said, was the motive of the crime.

The young woman, it was learned, came from her home in Walnut Springs, Tex., six years ago to study music and make her living as a pianist and as a motion picture actress. As an actress, she played one or two minor roles in cinema productions, but it was believed, had pleasing sunny exposure. The grantors are Joseph H. and Ada Perkins, and the purchase is made for investment purposes.

Fred E. and Frank A. Haines convey title of a very choice lot of land situated on Rogers street fronting on Shedd park. This is a large parcel, comprising 3346 square feet. The purchase is made for purposes of investment.

On behalf of Daniel P. and Alice L. MacLaughlin conveyance is made to Patrick E. Mahoney of two full-sized lots of land very desirably situated on Birch street in the Oakland section. The area involved totals approximately 10,000 sq. ft. Mr. Mahoney purchases for the purpose of development in a section where he has already accomplished considerable construction.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" MADE FROM FRUIT

Intensified Juices of Oranges, Apples, Figs and Prunes

Combined With Tonics

In overcoming disease and making the sick well, "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" get their care and unusual powers from the method of combining the fruit juices.

This process was discovered by a physician and perfected by him after hundreds of tests.

By this discovery, the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are concentrated and combined with tonics in such a manner that the medicinal action of the fruit juices is made much more active and valuable.

Try "Fruit-a-tives" for all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Skin Troubles. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. All dealers or sent by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ogdensburg, N. Y. Adv.

Mr. Dahl was but one of her socially prominent friends. She was a friend of the late Angier B. Duke and was one of those at the party which ended in his drowning at Greenwich, Conn., last September. While ostensibly a student of the piano, she had a motor car at her disposal, it was stated.

Mr. Dahl spent several hours yesterday explaining to the police his friendship with the young woman. The elevator man said Dahl had been a frequent caller at the West 77th street house and was seen leaving there Wednesday morning. Police asserted they had found in the apartment a record showing Miss Lawson owned $12,000 in B.M.T. stock.

Frederick Dahl, a lawyer and friend of Miss Lawson, explained that the transit executive not only knew the girl, but her parents as well and that he had been interested in her musical education.

DISCUSSIONS DAILY OF CIVIC AFFAIRS

Many new ideas regarded as worthy of immediate action were received during the week in the course of the daily program of work meetings arranged on at the chamber of commerce, commencing last Monday. Secretary-Manager George F. Wells said today that the daily discussions have been helpful and illuminating to all who participated and many suggestions of undoubted genuine worth to have been made. Many more suggestions of value to the members and the community at large were made.

Among movements which it was evident many thought the chamber should lend the weight of its support to were the abolition of grade crossings, the improvement of the public properties of Irish auditorium at the high school, the undertaking of a permanent street paving program, the solution of our traffic problems, an improvement of the ash and refuse collection service, the proposed French street extension, the proposed Palmer street extension, the paving of French and John streets, the stricter enforcement of the fire and building codes, and improvement of the same.

In many of these matters the chamber is already interested, but even greater interest is recommended and more steps to bring about the

HAD NO COLOR LIPS WERE BLUE

Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Loss of Appetite Were Further Symptoms of Thin Blood

"My blood had been poor and I had not been strong for a long time," says Mrs. Philip Danes, of No. 11 Selden street, Rochester, N. Y., "and finally I suffered a nervous collapse as a result of a sudden death in the family."

"I had no color at all and my lips were blue. I had dizzy spells and sick headaches; I lost my appetite and I was nervous and excited all of the time. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from reading about them in a newspaper. Then I could see a change. My nerves became quieter and I did not have the dizzy spells. My appetite improved and gradually I got more color. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a reliable blood building tonic. They certainly helped me and I am glad to recommend them."

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's today or write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing sixty cents and a box will be sent you, postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request.—Adv.

INSIDE—DID MANI SURJECTS
Parker P. Murphy and Mrs. Annie Rangan, secretary and treasurer, respectively of the Trades and Labor body as representatives to attend the hearing before the labor and industries committee of the legislature in Boston next Wednesday morning. This hearing is on a proposed bill changing and extending the limitations on working hours for women and minors.

The council, through President Patrick Bradley, has appointed a committee to draw appropriate resolutions on the death of Woodrow Wilson. The proposed new workmen's compensation law for the District of Columbia and the activities of the federal narcotic commission were both approved. Data received from Congressman John Jacob Rogers relative to the shopcraft strike were referred to the shopmen's board here. The secretary was instructed to write local dealers advising them against the purchase of prison made brooms.

DAWES NOT TO WITHDRAW FROM INQUIRY
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(By the Associated Press).—Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes has no intention of resigning, as chairman of the first committee of experts examining Germany's economic and financial condition, he declared today in the course of a telephone conversation from Berlin with reporters headquarters here.

His disclaimer was made in connection with various published rumors that he was withdrawing from the inquiry.

BERLIN, Feb. 9. (By the Associated Press).—Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes issued today a formal denial of the rumor that he had resigned as chairman of the first committee of experts.

PREPARE REPORTS ON REVENUE BILL
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Members of the ways and means committee prepared divergent reports today on the revenue bill which will be reported to the house Monday, while republican leaders continued efforts to unite their party for some stand on income rates that would assure passage of a republican measure in the face of solid democratic opposition.

Defeat yesterday of the resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to prohibit the issuance of tax-exempt securities, leaders said will have no effect on tax revision plans as contained in the committee's bill. The resolution lost by seven votes of the necessary two-thirds majority.

Defeat O. M. I. Cadets in Well Played Game by Score of 16 to 9—Joe Foley and Dan Crowe Leading Scorers—Series Now Stands Institute 3, Cadets 2

The Y.M.C.A. defeated the O.M.F. Cadets in the fifth game of the big basketball series at Crescent rink last night. 16 to 9 was the score. The victory gave the Institute the best of three games, the first two having been won by two to one with the next game scheduled for Tuesday night.

The Y.M.C.A. team had the advantage in the first half with Ryan, Wing, Winn and Shea in their lineup. The Cadets dropped the "ringers" employed in previous games and came out in an all new line up, but five men during the entire game.

Thus in holding the Y.M.C.A. to such a close score the Cadets were really out of it. At the end of the first half the Institute looked like a walkaway for the Institute but the Cadets "came back" as the game progressed. The Institute had a classy exhibition of team work, in which every cadet played figured the last 10 minutes of the first half. "Peck" O'Connor, Ike took a pass of the run and with a sudden turn and fast, accurate peg sent the ball into the basket for the first of the Institute goals of the game. The Y.M.C.A. not to be denied turned on full stream and a couple of double-fingers resulted with the Institute leading 10 to 6 before the Institute team closed up like a jack-in-the-box and by putting forth a stone wall defense prevented further scoring by the Institute. The desperate, frantic efforts on the part of the Cadets to break through, a point on four boosted the Cadets' total to 9. The Institute then exploded. The Institute scored 10 points.

a stiff battle. Joe Foley, of the Y.M.C.A. and Dan Crowe of the Cadets were the leading scorers of the first eight minutes. Crowe put three into the basket. Ryan and Wing each scored a brace with Shea landing one. "Doc" O'Connor registered one for the Cadets.

Brilliant playing and shooting by Foley gave the Institute the jump in the opening half. After but a few minutes of play, Foley pulled the ball out of a scrimmage and sent it into the netting for the first score of the game. Hardly had the apparatus started when the same player repeated the performance. Then for more than ten minutes the teams battled at a terrific pace, before another score was registered. It remained for Foley to again come through. His third shot was a long one that came from an almost impossible angle, but it was to score and the period ended, 5 to 0, in favor of the Y.M.C.A.

Dennis Crowe gave the Cadet coaches a chance to cheer in the second session, when he duplicated Foley's stunt by landing three in the hoop.

outboxing and outpointing his opponent in 14 of the 15 rounds. Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, won a judges' decision over George Marko, California flyweight, in a colorful bout at Madison Square Garden last night. Villa's title was not at stake, Marko forfeiting his right to battle for the crown by weighing in at 116½ pounds, four and one-half pounds over the flyweight limit.

In addition to losing the verdict, Marks lost his weight forfeit fee of $1250. Villa weighed 111.

The champion was the aggressor from the start and kept on top of Marks throughout, the challenger appearing lost against the whirlwind attack.

Villa was unmarked, while Marks was bleeding from his mouth and nose due to the effective punching of the slaladder. Marks had an edge in bu-

Villa was unmarked, while Marks was bleeding from his mouth and nose due to the effective punching of the titleholder. Marks had an edge in the one round, the fifth, when he took the lead from his rival and showered Villa with a tantalizing jab which appeared to puzzle the champion for a short spell.

LECTURE SUNDAY IN THE PARKER SERIES

The lecture next Sunday in the Parker series upon "Ancient America and Its Peoples" by Arthur P. Abbott, well-known as an author and historian, has been very highly commended by educational authorities and others. It is illustrated by lantern slides showing some of the most interesting phases of the habitations of those peoples who lived in southwestern America long before Columbus discovered the continent.

While the ancient history of this country is more or less clouded in the mists of uncertainty, Mr. Abbott has made a careful study of the facts available and will present an interesting story that cannot fail to broaden one's knowledge of those ancient peoples.

Through the period of discovery and conquest the writings of explorers and conquerors are voluminous and, in the main, dependable. After a lapse of some two centuries Humboldt, the explorer and scientist, with others, makes valuable contribution. Half a century later Prescott adds additional and valuable light. Finally our great institutions of learning and research have been, and are now, and no doubt will continue to add to and make more clear the data available.

It is a careful study of the former and co-operation of the latter that forms the basis of the information given in this lecture.

This lecture is an outline of a new popular history of ancient America, by Mr. Abbott, which is soon to be published. Many of the slides in the lecture will appear among the illustrations in the book, of which in the latter, there will be some one hundred and fifty.

A. O. H. NOW PLANNING
BIG CLASS INITIATION

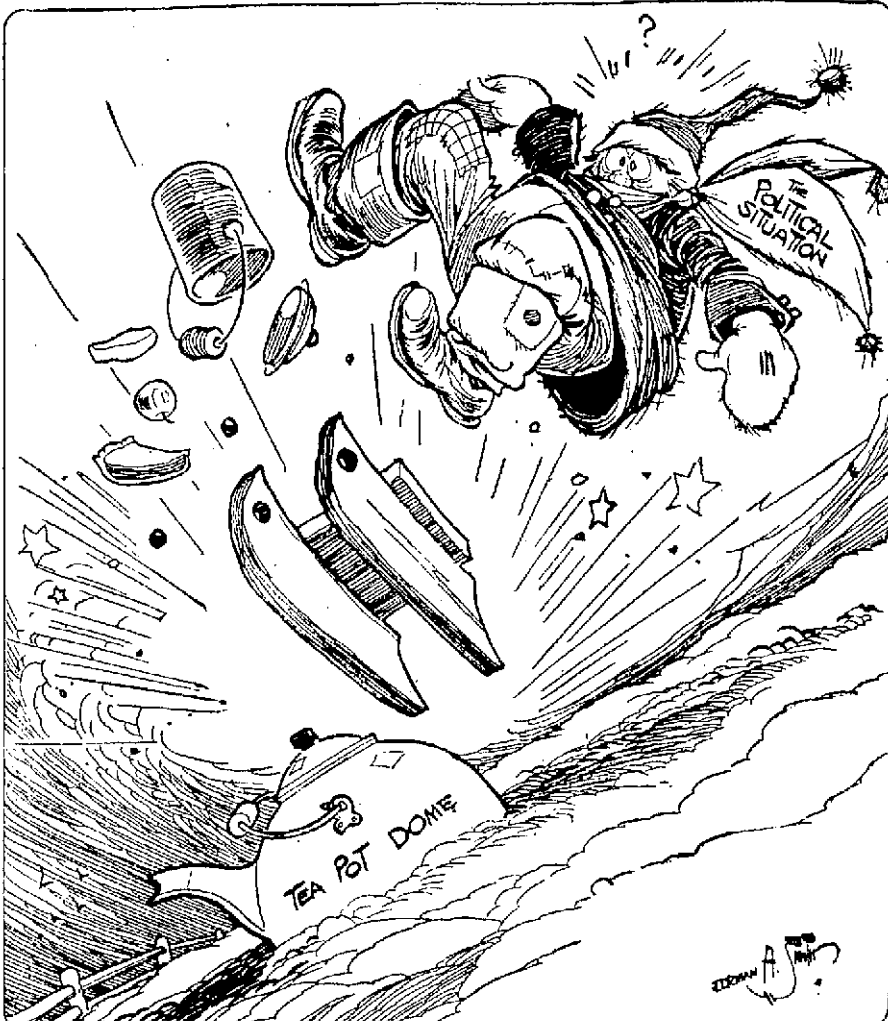

The various divisions of the A. O. H. societies of Lowell are working hard in preparing for a class initiation which will be held in Lowell Feb. 17. This is expected to be a banner day for the workers of the organization as it is several years since there have been such elaborate preparations for a similar event. A degree team has been organized and is under the direction of Capt. Murphy. At a recent meeting of the Central council reports were read from the various councils and ladies' auxiliaries and there is much rivalry among the teams captained by Presidents James J. McManis, John O'Sullivan, James J. McManis. Present at the initiation exercises will be numerous dignitaries from the many societies of the A. O. H. and a fine program will be carried out.

OH, WHAT A BUMP!

FOR U. S. NAVYAnnual Naval Appropriation
Bill Reported By House
Committee Today$30,000,000 Available For
Completing Vessels Now
Under Construction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The annual naval appropriation bill carrying $271,942,867, of which $30,000,000 could be available for completing more than a score of vessels now under construction, was reported today by the house appropriations committee. The total is $1,455,000 less than budget estimates and $23,024,000 less than the amount allotted the navy by congress a year ago.

The bill provides $117,000,000 for pay, enough to keep the navy at its present strength of 6465 officers and 56,900 enlisted men during the fiscal year beginning July 1, next. Provision also is made for 1002 officers and 12,500 enlisted men in the marine corps.

For aviation, the bill carries $14,500,000, or $57,174 less than last year's appropriation. Commenting on the proposed Polar expedition trip of the dirigible Shenandoah, next summer, the report said actual expenses over normal operating costs would approximate $153,000 and that since most of this amount would meet the current appropriations, the committee had not seen fit to interfere in any way with plans for the expedition.

As to new ship construction the committee said it was with power not yet sanctioned by congress, but it did obtain information it had obtained to the effect that the navy department is committed to a program for building types permissible under the Washington arms conference treaty, which with the modernizing program already under way, could involve expenditure of approximately $35,000,000 for the next ten years.

With reference to the appropriation of $30,000,000 for continuing the building of ships permissible under the arms conference agreements the report said that on November 30 last one battleship, two airplane carriers, six scout cruisers, 13 submarines, three destroyer tenders, one submarine tender and one rapid ship were in various stages of construction and would be completed during the coming fiscal year, with the exception of the two airplane carriers, three of the scout cruisers and three of the submarines. An additional $5,500,000 was estimated still have to be appropriated to complete the work.

The committee declined to accept a budget recommendation that $2,500,000 be appropriated for commencing the construction of three fleet submarines authorized 1914, declaring the values of this type of craft had not yet been proved. It recommended instead that $500,000 be made available for the development and testing of submarine motive power under actual service conditions.

For betterments at navy yards and naval stations, the committee recommended an appropriation of $1,918,500 or less than half the budget estimate to be distributed for the most part as follows:
Boston navy yard, $175,000; Mare Island navy yard, $125,000; Puget Sound navy yard, $100,000; Pearl Harbor navy station, $175,000; Cavite,

Sinclair, Doherty and Standard Oil in Plot

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The oil trust, consisting of John D. Rockefeller, John D. Archbold, and John D. Archbold, are alleged to have conspired to monopolize the oil business in the United States. The plot is alleged to have been discovered by the government.

of those associated with Bonfils.) They treated him like an office boy, and thought they could settle with him on any terms agreeable to him.
"The Pioneer kept telling him to eat the shit and to take whatever he would give him."
During his testimony, yesterday, the witness said that he and Slack, a Denver oil man, with H. H. Tamm, their attorney, negotiated a settlement with Sinclair, the proceeds of which were split four ways. This settlement he said, took place after the Post had published an article attacking the Teapot Dome situation but had deferred publication of other stories on the same subject because of a fear of libel suits.
Today Bonfils vigorously denied that the attitude of his employer toward Sinclair had anything to do with the contract of settlement.

TO VOTE ON RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The senate met an hour earlier than usual today in an effort to reach a vote before adjournment on the Robinson resolution requesting President Coolidge to call upon Secretary Denby for his resignation, and its oil committee pressed forward along the new line of naval reserve training investigation developed yesterday in the voluntary testimony of Frederick G. Bonfield, publisher of the Denver Post.

The committee, with the scope of its inquiry steadily broadening, and its list of prospective witnesses rapidly lengthening, also had before it today the president's nominations of Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, and former Senator from Tennessee of Ohio, to act as counsel for the government in its oil cases under the Walsh resolution, directing court proceedings. Mr. Coolidge in signing the measure, notified the senate that in doing so he expressed "no opinion with reference to the facts which purport to be found in the preliminary report of the committee which declares the leases were made in violation of the law and under circumstances, indicating fraud and corruption."

$1,000,000 Involved
Mr. Bonfils, whose testimony yesterday caused the committee to put off until Monday, its compliance with the request for a hearing made by William G. McAdoo, candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, had reached the point of cross-examination when the committee resumed the inquiry this morning. He asserted yesterday that, with H. H. Tamm, his partner, and H. H. Schwartz, their attorney, he had entered into an agreement to assist John Leo Slack, Denver oil man, in efforts to enforce a contract with certain companies which had secured claims in the Wyoming field, and that Harry F. Sinclair, holder of the Teapot Dome lease, had signed a contract involving payment amounting to $1,000,000 in settlement of the claims. The alleged rights involved in the transaction, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, has told the senate, had been denied by the government.

Test Validity of Lease
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Legal effort to test the validity of a 20-year lease given by the board of harbor commissioners to E. L. Doherty's Pan-American company on municipally owned land in the harbor district here, was urged in a message sent to the city council late yesterday by Mayor Glen K. Cryer.

Attorneys have contended that the harbor board is expressly prohibited by the city charter and ordinances from leasing for private use any portion of the municipally owned waterfront property of which 1200 front feet were leased to Doherty on June 12, 1923.

Calling attention to these opinions and contending that personal attacks made on members of the harbor commission in connection with the lease of the harbor district area, that the matter is definitely settled and determined by the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, to the end that "agitation of the matter shall cease."

LOWEST DIVIDEND

RATE SINCE WAR

FALL RIVER, Feb. 9.—The dividend rate of Fall River's cotton mills for the first quarter of 1924, according to the figures furnished by G. M. Haffarda &amp; Co., is the lowest since the World War. The average is 1.11 per cent on the capitalization of $10,315,000, the sum of $56,175 being distributed to stockholders during the period. This decrease is primarily due to the absence of extra dividends, the King Philip mills contributing nearly $500,000 to the grand total of the previous year's dividends. The company has a special 25 per cent cash dividend, which has been denied by the government.

SEPARATISTS VACATE MAYENCE BUILDINGS

MAYENCE, Germany, Feb. 9.—(By the Associated Press) The separatists this morning vacated the public buildings in Mayence which they have been holding for some time. The evacuation apparently was made in agreement with the functionaries of the old regime, who entered from one side as the separatists left from the other.

EPIDEMIC OF SUICIDES IN VIENNA

VIENNA, Feb. 9.—The Austrian capital is suffering from a growing epidemic of suicides, most of which are attributed to the widespread unemployment. The climax was reached on Thursday, when 11 persons took their own lives during the 24 hours.

DROP IN LOCAL

MORTALITY RATE

The local mortality rate dropped perceptibly this week, falling to 11.97, from 11.76 last week and 12.83 for the week previous. There were 21 deaths reported the current week, against 22 and 20 for the two weeks just preceding. Of the 21 deaths reported this week eight were of children under 5 years of age and six of persons over 5 years of age.

The following diseases reported were: Pneumonia, 4; scarlet fever, 5; measles, 1; tuberculosis, 1.

HERE'S A PRIZE BEAUTY FROM TOP TO TOE

If this young woman were to enter a beauty contest, she'd stand an exceptional chance of winning four prizes—one for her face, another for her arms, a third for her form and the last for her legs. The difficulty is she isn't a young woman—she's a composite of four who have gained national fame for their beauty. The head is that of Kay Laurell, one of the most beautiful actresses on the stage. Eleanor Boardman owns the arms, considered the most shapely in screenland. The body is that of Martha Gonzales, whom artists have picked as the most Venus-like woman in America. And the legs are claimed by Gilda Gray of the Ziegfeld Follies, where the most shapely legs gather.

LOSES FIGHT TO HALT DEPORTATION

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 8.—Luis Diaz, a native of the island of Madeira, Portugal, lost his fight in the federal court here today to prevent the United States immigration bureau from deporting him on the grounds of being an illiterate alien. He managed in some way to get through the literacy test at Ellis Island two years ago, and located in New Bedford, Mass., where he obtained employment as a weaver. Last summer he returned to his native land on an excursion, but coming back through this port, his illiteracy was discovered and he was held in detention until January 11, when he was placed on the steamer Canada of the Fabre line for deportation from this port. He was brought off the boat by a court order a few minutes before the ship sailed. Today, the court denied his petition for a writ of habeas corpus and he will be deported February 21 on the steamer Asia of the same line.

PETROLEUM COMPANY WITHDRAWS OFFER

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Directors of the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Co. today voted to withdraw the recent offer to stockholders to subscribe to the capital stock of the Pan-American Western Petroleum Co., which was recently organized to develop the California naval oil leases.

Action of the directors means virtual dissolution of the western subsidiary, which was formed in November, with a capital of 1,000,000 shares in which Pan-American Petroleum held a 59 per cent. interest. The remaining 425,000 shares were offered to stockholders of the parent company at $20 a share.

Through the sale of this stock Pan-American Petroleum planned to raise $10,000,000 to add to the proceeds from the sale of $12,000,000 in bonds to finance improvement of the California properties.

DISAGREES WITH POLICY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—After an address by Secretary Wallace the national council of Farmers' Cooperative Marketing associations here today asked by Aaron Sapiro, prominent in organizing such associations, to draw up a "bill of particulars" criticizing the agriculture department's policy toward co-operative marketing.

SCOUTS' PARTY ON BIRTHDAY

Mayor and Other Officials
Present at Ceremony in Liberty Hall

Scouts Publicly Renew Pledge
Before Crowd of Parents and Guests

The fourteenth anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America was joyously celebrated in Liberty hall, in common with all scout organizations throughout the country. It was the largest and liveliest gathering of Boy Scouts held locally in many a long day, more than 450 of them being present, with nearly 200 friends and guests also there to participate in the observance.

Scout Executive Edwin J. Mellon presided at the rally and first presented a letter of public commendation from the local council to Thomas Smith, Troop 20, of St. Patrick's parish, who recently aided in the rescue of a little girl who had fallen into the waters of Pawtucket canal.

Mayor John J. Donovan was warmly greeted by the scouts and their guests. He complimented the troopers on their excellent work and said the city is proud of them. Dr. John H. Lambert, one of the hardest workers in the cause of Boy Scouts, was also enthusiastically welcomed. Councilors John W. Dale and Alvin J. Lambert were inducted as honorary members. Seated also on the stage beside the councilors were Elmore I. MacPhie, Frank B. Kenney and Charles F. Langley.

The scouts went through the different organization ceremonials and also renewed their oath under Executive Mellon's leadership. A short moving picture was presented and reports covering the past year's work read. Three local scouts were reported sick in hospitals and boys in the audience agreed to visit the hospitals every day and carry cheer to their sick comrades.

Mr. Mellon announced that the scouts' spring rally would be held on June 14. The next scout court of honor will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms on Feb. 20. A division of the Sea Scouts will soon be started in Lowell and possibly a Sea Scouts' reservist organization. Horatio B. Leggett will be the skipper of the new organization.

TOBOGGAN SLIDE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

While snow remains on the ground the toboggan chute at Fort Hill park will be maintained by the park department, with police protection and adequate illumination every night between the hours of 6 and 10 o'clock. The slide today was lightning fast.

WILL HOLD PARENTS' DAY

Uncle Robert Booms it in Chicago for Second Sunday in May

Mr. Arthur A. Sporo of Whitney avenue has received several letters and newspapers from his brother in Chicago containing a series of articles relative to the observance of Parents' day, on the second Sunday of May, as urged by Uncle Robert, the philanthropist who recently visited this city. Uncle Robert's idea is to unite Mothers' day and Fathers' day in one observance under the head of "Parents' day." He has been in conference with Mayor Dever of Chicago and the school authorities of that city and the idea has been very favorably received so that it is likely to be taken up all over the country. The Independent Order of Elks, through their Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, has endorsed the proposition in the following statement:

"It affords me great pleasure to give my proposed 'Parents' Day' my unqualified approval. It certainly is a movement that will appeal to every Elks, inspired as it is by the sentiment that is the foundation and groundwork of our order, viz., 'Do unto others as we would they should do unto you.'"

"Filling love and respect make for good citizenship, and in promoting the proper degree of affection between parents and children you are developing our social fabric and building a structure that will add steadily to the strength of our state and national government, and inure to the general welfare of our respective communities."

"With all good wishes for the success of the undertaking to which you are so unselfishly devoting your time and thought, and trusting that you will not hesitate to call on me if I can be of service to you in this most praiseworthy activity, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

FRED C. ROBINSON, Grand Sec.,
I. O. E. of the U. S. A."

Mayor Dever and Charles M. Moberwell, chairman of the state board of education have given Uncle Robert's proposition their cordial approval so that Parents' Day is to be observed in Chicago and the schools of Chicago and generally throughout the city on the second Sunday of May.

EXPULSION ORDERS OF STEEL
NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation on January 31, made public today, totalled 4,738,429 tons, an increase of 55,000 tons over orders at the end of December.

and boys who tried it out this forenoon not only traveled across the flat as far as Rogers street, but crossed the street and went some distance down Banks street before losing all forward speed. The park department has arranged to have two police officers on duty at the slide every evening to maintain good order and obviate accidents.

The stone park bench which was in such close proximity to the slide that several toboggan parties were spilled over it during the carnival was removed by park employees today. It was no easy job, but in the interests of safety it was thought best to take it out for the time being.

FINE FAMILY OF SIX OWES GOOD HEALTH TO FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

When Mrs. Ray N. McIntire sent in this picture, she said: "This picture of my six children will show you more than anything I could write the benefit we have received from using Father John's Medicine. My doctor in Dover, N. H., recommended it to me. I think it is the greatest medicine that money can buy. All my children take it when they have colds or need building up." (Signed) Mrs. Ray N. McIntire, Fisher St., Westbrook, Mass.

Because Father John's Medicine is pure, wholesome nourishment, and has had 65 years' success treating colds and coughs, it is the standard family remedy in thousands of homes all over the country. It is safe for every member of the family, because it contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Two Fines and House of Correction Sentence for
Joseph Waznor

Several liquor law violators appeared before Judge Enright in district court this morning. Joseph Waznor was the most serious offender. Besides being fined $150 and sentenced to the house of correction for a term of three months, on a charge of illegal keeping, he was fined $20 for operating an automobile without a license.

Although the liquor violation marked defendant's first appearance on this charge before the court, Judge Enright said he could not deal with the man as an ordinary first offender, as evidence was introduced to show that he has been a "consistent performer" and "getting away with it."

Officer Frank Moloney of the liquor squad testified to going to Waznor's house in Church street and securing a half-pint of liquor which defendant's wife attempted to spill into a sink. Officer Moloney was accompanied by his brother, Officer John Hall and Officer John Leahy. He said about 11 a. m. entered the premises first, but was obliged to force his way in after a tussle with a man in the doorway. When the officers entered the kitchen, they said, Mrs. Waznor was emptying liquor from a quart milk bottle. Officer Moloney snatched the bottle from her hand before she was able to completely empty its contents.

Adelard Soucier pleaded guilty to illegal sale and was continued one month for sentence.

Noe Hamel and John Pineault both entered pleas of not guilty. They were continued until next Wednesday. Theresa Zancan, illegal sale, failed to appear and was defaulted.

Officer William Liston and others testified that several attempts, dating back to May of last year, were made to procure evidence at this house. A "watch" was kept on the premises and several men seen leaving in a drunken condition. Everything they said, pointed to traffic in liquor, but when raids were made, the woman in the house succeeded in doing away with the evidence.

The motor vehicle violation occurred in Andover street a short time ago. Waznor was driving an automobile which collided with another car and when Officer William Keegan investigated, he learned that defendant did not have license or registration in his possession. The car was later found to have been registered, but Waznor admitted he never had a license.

He appealed the sentences and was ordered to recognize in $400 for his appearance in superior court.

Other Cases
George Lambros, proprietor of a Market street coffee house, was called on a continued liquor complaint and his case again continued for one week, to allow of further investigation.

Frank Garski pleaded guilty to drunkenness. Officer Frank Murphy was summoned to his home in Davidson street about 11:15 o'clock last night after the man's wife approached him and said that her husband was abusive and had been drinking.

Adam Janeczko, originally placed on probation under a suspended sentence for drunkenness, faced the additional charge of non-support this morning. He was given a suspended sentence of six months in the house of correction.

Alcide Champagne, brought in on a capias for non-payment of a $10 fine imposed last November for making a nuisance of a drunk, paid up today and was released.

Frank Romano, drunkenness, was sentenced to three months in the house of correction.

Karoline Golden and Frank Stys, charged with cohabitation, were fined $50 each.

John Martin was continued until next Tuesday on a complaint charging him with going away after an accident without making himself known.

WHEN INVESTIGATED

Pier Chief Saunders investigated the two minor blazes which occurred at the plant of the Meyer Thread Company, Thursday evening, and Friday morning, and reports that the first was caused by combustion, while the second was due to an oily rag being too close to a steam pipe.

BILLERICA VOTERS PLAN TO CUT 1924 TAX RATE TO $28

Town Meeting Today—Heaviest Vote for Town Officers Ever Recorded—Finance Committee Slashes Estimates to Keep Within the Debt Limit

Leading citizen taxpayers of Billerica stood up to be counted today morning to participate in the annual town meeting, when a formidable program for reducing 1924 expenditures of town money and securing a lower taxation rate was introduced and endorsed amid enthusiasm. The hoped-for reduction expects the 1924 tax rate to be about $28 per thousand, last year the rate was $31.

With excellent weather on the cards, Billerica citizens, aroused by the precarious condition of town finances and anxious to make retrenchment this year before the debts grow larger, flocked to town hall early in the morning to participate in the annual town meeting and afternoon business meetings.

The election of new officers aroused lively interest, seven candidates for selectmen being listed on the official ballots, with five candidates out for the office of highway commissioner. The polls were opened at 6 a. m. and were to close at the option of the voters at 4 p. m. this afternoon.

Political foes were busy all the morning, enlisting votes from far and near for favorite candidates. More

IDEAL WEATHER BRINGS GOOD CHEER TO LOCAL MERCHANTS

Annual Dollar Day Was Well Advertised—Street Railway Reports—Big Increase in Business—Streets Lined and Stores Packed With Enthusiastic Shoppers

The fifty-four merchants of Lowell who for the past month have been carefully planning at the chamber of commerce rooms for the annual "Dollar Day" today reaped the fruits of their labors. The attractive offerings made by the various stores, and advertised with liberal use of newspaper space yesterday, attracted thousands of spending shoppers to the downtown stores. While it is too early to comment on the financial success of the day, with the evening yet before them, the merchants are one and all enthusiastic at the results obtained. A few "unauthorized" stores, who took advantage of the fact it was Dollar day, but abstained from helping the plan or pay for the campaign also got an increase of business, but hardly proportionate to that enjoyed by the official stores.

Today will be recorded as one of the best shopping days from the store point of view, of the present season. Tricky weather has hurt business during the winter months, and today's rush of buyers to the store counters was the most encountered.

SINCLAIR, DOHENY AND STANDARD OIL IN PLOT, SAYS BONFILS

Denver Publisher Charges Conspiracy to Assure Award of Tea Pot Dome Oil Lease to Sinclair—Vote on Robinson Resolution in Senate This Afternoon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—A charge that Harry F. Sinclair, E. I. Doheny and "the Standard Oil allied companies" conspired to assure award of the Tea Pot Dome oil lease to Sinclair, was made before the senate oil committee today by Frederick G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver Post.

Continuing his story of his connection with the group that held contesting claims in the Tea Pot Reserve and disposed of them to Sinclair, the publisher asserted that in addition to the payments made to that group, the also had interests in the district, received $1,000,000 in oil produced by the Sinclair company from Tea Pot.

Replying to questions by Senator Walsh, democratic, Montana, Bonfils said that "there was a conspiracy between Doheny and Sinclair and the Standard Oil allied companies to let Sinclair have the Tea Pot Dome as far as they were concerned."

Most Extraordinary Question

In the midst of a vigorous cross-examination, Chairman Lenroot asked whether "the matter of your attack on Sinclair" was discussed at the conference with Sinclair.

"No, sir," Bonfils replied.

"Was the matter of your ceasing your attacks on Sinclair discussed?"

"I would like to know what instigated these questions. Did they emanate from Colorado?"

"I am asking these questions on my responsibility as a senator and you will please answer them."

"It is a most extraordinary question and I want the record to show the fact."

Head of Police Department Issues Orders Calling for "Drastic Measures"

Action Taken Because of "the Cloudy Situation as to Enforcement of Law"

LAWRENCE, Feb. 9.—Alderman Henry W. Marshall, head of the police department today issued orders to all members of the department calling for them to take "drastic measures" because of "the cloudy situation as to the enforcement of the law in Lawrence." The order places the responsibility on the shoulders of every officer and says that "every matter coming to the attention of a member of the department must be reported and if in an emergency warrants are required the officer himself can go and procure one. Officers must keep notes in proper books of happenings on their beats and be prepared to testify. Any violation of these instructions will be dealt with by charges, suspension and removals."

ATTY. GEN. DAUGHERTY BACK FROM FLORIDA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Attorney-General Daugherty returned today from a two weeks' stay in Florida and immediately went to the White House for a conference with President Coolidge.

Prior to seeing the president, he refused to discuss the conference. He declared his return had not been hastened, although at the time of his departure from Washington it was announced that he planned to make an indefinite visit to Florida.

After the conference Mr. Daugherty said the discussions had largely concerned the oil lease investigation. He denied he had returned to Washington at the request of the president, denied he had submitted his resignation and refused to talk about details of the oil inquiry.

DENBY CONFERS WITH WEEKS

Secretaries of Navy and War Departments in Conference at Washington

Indications That Situation in the Senate Was Discussed at Length

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Secretary Denby, who conferred with President Coolidge after yesterday's cabinet meeting, had a long talk with Secretary Weeks.

There were indications that the situation in the senate was discussed, but nothing appeared on the surface to evidence a change in Mr. Denby's announced determination not to resign in the face of the pending resolution asking that he do so.

The navy secretary and Mr. Weeks have been close friends for years. Mr. Denby cancelled a trip he had planned to Charleston, S. C., today, to say good-bye to a delegation sailing on the transport Henderson to witness the naval maneuvers off Panama.

Dracut Supplies 22 Per Cent of the 42,500 Quarts Consumed Here Daily

Forty-nine cities and towns in four New England states are daily supplying Lowell people with upwards of 42,500 quarts of milk and Dracut, just over the river, heads the list by producing 22 per cent of the entire supply. Not only does Dracut produce this big percentage of the milk consumed every day in the city, but it stands far above any other city or town in the list, Chelmsford ranking second with a percentage of 13.

Lowell milk comes from Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont.

Constable Shot Dead—Deputy Sheriff Wounded—Hospital Fired Upon

HERRIN, Ills., Feb. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Herrin, scene of the miners' riot of 1922, was taken over by state troops today as a result of a near riot last night, between "wets" and "drys," in which a constable was killed and a deputy sheriff wounded seriously.

The trouble is a result of the wholesale dry raids which have been conducted in this (Williamson) county recently by reputed members of the Ku Klux Klan, led by S. Glenn Young, paid employee of the Klan. A meeting of the Knights of the Flaming Circle, an anti-klan organization, was in session when a crowd stormed the hall. The shooting followed.

Caesar Cagle, a constable, who had been issuing the warrants on which the "drys" conducted the raids, was shot dead. John Layman, deputy sheriff, who, with Sheriff George Galligan, went to the anti-klan meeting to urge the conferees to disperse and go to their homes in the interest of peace, was shot. He was taken to a local hospital by Mayor C. E. Anderson and Ora Thomas, an anti-klan man, and the trio is being guarded at the hospital by national guardsmen.

Immediately a crowd gathered

FOUR NEW NOMINATIONS SENT TO COUNCIL BY MAYOR

E. J. Donnelly for Purchasing Agent, Dr. M. A. Tighe as City Physician, J. G. Gordon for Moth Superintendent and Dr. W. A. Sherman Named Today

DR. MICHAEL A. TIGHE
Renominated as City Physician

EDWARD J. DONNELLY
Renominated as Purchasing Agent

Four new nominations for city positions were made today by Mayor John J. Donovan and filed with the clerk for presentation to the council at its meeting next Tuesday night.

The list is headed by Edward J. Donnelly, nominated for a term of two years to succeed himself as purchasing agent. As this is one of the most important municipal offices, its tenure has been the subject of speculation ever since the first of the year, but the renomination of Mr. Donnelly now clears the atmosphere and eliminates all other candidates who have been mentioned from time to time.

The other three nominations submitted today are: Dr. Michael A. Tighe, city physician for a term of two years to succeed himself; John G. Gordon, superintendent of moths for a term of one year, to succeed himself, the nomination being subject to confirmation by State Forester William A. L. Barry; Dr. Walter A. Sherman, animal inspector for a term of two years, to succeed himself.

TO ARREST PURCHASERS OF BOOTLEG WHISKEY

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9.—Federal warrants for the arrest of alleged purchasers of whiskey were issued yesterday for the first time since the advent of prohibition, following the indictment of 27 persons on charges of conspiracy in a mail-order bootlegging scheme, the head of which was said to have been Isaac Bulfinch, of this city. Heretofore federal authorities had confined their activities to vendors of illegal beverages.

Twenty-two of those named in the indictments were alleged customers of Bulfinch living in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, and Illinois cities and towns. Warrants were forwarded to United States marshals in their districts.

OIL REVELATIONS MAY DOOM WHAT CHANCE McADOO ONCE HAD

Leading Democrats Look Askance at Presidential Aspirations Since Sinclair Connection Became Known—Underwood and Pomerene Stocks Soar

(Special to The Sun.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.—With government flags at half-staff, all government officials under the so-called 30-day mourning order of the president, Washington's day seemed to have taken a sudden turn at the death of Woodrow Wilson. His death even stopped the flow of bitter partisanship that was turning congressional debate into what some styled "now-down political rallies." Franklin D. Roosevelt, the new president, the tax bill and other matters up for discussion was laid aside under an armistice. Even the political enemies of the former president joined in expressions of regret or eulogy. The common leveler, representing all bitterness and eliminating it from capital talk.

Mr. McAdoo's Status
What effect the death of Mr. Wilson will have on the presidential candidacy of Mr. McAdoo is not so certain. It might have been before the McAdoo association with the Sinclair oil companies came to the surface. It has long been known that Mr. Wilson did not favor the candidacy of McAdoo and moreover those who viewed the former president in short range well knew that his health was such that he was leader "in name only."

But the Sinclair revelations have put Mr. McAdoo in quite a different status, according to general opinion here, although one or two democratic senators have remarked "it will make no difference."

Democrats who have urged punishment and rebuke for every man connected with the Harding cabinet, including President Coolidge, on the ground that "they know what was going on" are aghast at the revelation that one of their prospective candidates was associated with the oil company even though his connection has not the snitch of intrigue or dishonesty associated with it. People here are not questioning the right of Mr. McAdoo to accept the office of adviser but democratic supporters of Mr. McAdoo fear the country will not discriminate between a legitimate business connection with the great corporation and the scandal in which certain other men are involved. There is no denying the fact that the McAdoo presidential stock is on the bear side of the market at the capital at this moment, and that other candidates or prospective candidates are making the most of their opportunity.

Underwood Camp Rejoices

The political friends of Senator Underwood of Alabama, feel that their candidate has been driven far to the front in the past week, and rejoice that he has already stood the brunt of one presidential campaign—1912—and come through unscathed by scandal or mud-slinging. It had been thought that Underwood would not figure largely in the first ballot but would come in strong as a compromise candidate. Now his friends are pushing him forward to a good place in the first.

Political predictions now bring to the front the name of Oscar Underwood of Alabama as a partial successor to Mr. McAdoo in leading on the first or second ballots at the New York convention. "At this moment it looks more like an open race than it did a few weeks ago," said former Senator Hake Smith of Georgia, member of the Cleveland cabinet, and a political leader in the democratic party.

Mr. McAdoo's connection with the oil leases will undoubtedly dampen the order of many of his supporters. It will enhance the chances of all other candidates and the selection of Senator Pomerene of Ohio by President Coolidge to serve as investigation counsel in the oil cases will put him in much prominence and in my opinion throw another hat into the presidential ring.

Pomerene a Factor

It was said here two years ago that if Pomerene won out in the senatorial fight in Ohio, he would be a candidate for the presidency at the democratic convention in 1924. But Pomerene lost out to Fess, republican, and not much has been heard of his prospective candidacy since then. Democrats like Pomerene and regard him as of presidential caliber. He has strong, if not a winning part, in the New York convention this summer. At this moment few if any prominent democrats will "name their man." Too early to determine the issue or the issue is the reply to questions along that line. The republican tide is running strong for Coolidge, according to accounts from all over the country.

The capitol waited a long time for Senator Magnus Johnson to create a sensation and then it broke out in an unexpected spot. "Twas not on the floor of the senate but in the 'sacred precincts' of the press gallery where senators rarely venture to tread. The half was not told in the scanty item that was published the next day. The 'boys' are not apt to tell stories on themselves, but this is too good to keep dark on.

Magnus in a Rage

Mr. Johnson became violently angry at some comment a Minnesota newspaper correspondent had made on one of the Johnson pet bills. So up to the press gallery sped the short stout dirt farmer senator and lost no time in "taking it out" on the correspondent, in language so violent and epithets far "out of order" that in a half a hour, hundred newspaper men surrounded him and cries of "throw him out" filled the air.

Then it was that the senate press gallery superintendent—"Long Jim Preston," took a hand in the game. Preston is known and trusted by every prominent public man in the country—"the Preston who rules the press at all the great national conventions; the Preston who has the privileges of the senate floor; in fact, the Preston who 'rules the roost' in the parlance of way down east. So Preston stepped into the ring, took the angry senator firmly, but politely by the arm and conducted him back to the floor of the senate.

Was a Real Bad Boy

Now the newspaper men wonder what will happen at the coming national conventions when Johnson takes his seat in the press section. He has been engaged by a syndicate to cover the conventions, which is a nerve wearing game at the best. And the man who doesn't conform to strict rules must quit the job. Senators don't count. William J. Bryan, former secretary of the Navy and Johnson are booked for the press section this year. The other two know the game and play it well, but what about Johnson?

Here and There

After the week of besmirching and partisan recrimination and death and sorrow, the award of a medal of honor to Commander Walter A. Edwards, U. S. N., came as a pleasant interlude. The award was made in honor of Edwards when commander of the U. S. S. Bainbridge in the Marmora sea in 1923. It was then that a French ship transport blew up and Edwards saved 482 lives by having his ship lashed to the burning transport in a heavy sea and in the midst of a raging December storm. President Coolidge pinned the medal on the commandant's breast in the

SUFFERED SINCE YOUNG GIRL

Words Failed to Express Benefit Received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Greenville, Texas.—"Words can not express how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Every month I would have cramps and headache, and I felt like I was freezing to death. I suffered in this way from the time I was young girl, and all the doctors said was 'operation.' For months I had a tired, sleepy feeling all day, and when night would come I would be so nervous I couldn't stay in bed. Our druggist recommended the Vegetable Compound to my husband and he bought four bottles. I have taken every one and I think I have a right to praise your medicine."—Mrs. J. R. HOLLEMAN, 2214 E. Marshall St., Greenville, Texas.

For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been used by women from girlhood through middle age. It is a dependable medicine for troubles common to women. Such symptoms as Mrs. Holleman had are relieved by correcting the cause of the trouble. For sale by druggists everywhere.

presence of Secretary Denby and members of the staff.

Archbishop Curley of Baltimore is urging women to discourage the militant movement under which women are entering politics and demanding "equal rights." In an address to several thousand women of the Catholic National Council delivered at Washington City club this week, the archbishop and other speakers at the meeting felt that the active work to be done by women if they entered active political life would be the means of breaking up the home life. The Rev. John J. Burke ended his address by saying

"The equal rights bill as proposed will disrupt the sacred institution of marriage and disrupt many happy homes." It will be recalled that the bill referred to would not make it necessary for women to assume the name of their husbands on marriage nor give the children of such marriage the name of their father. It includes other equal radical changes in domestic life.

If any of The Sun readers feel sick today they can console themselves that so do 3,000,000 other persons in the United States according to figures given out today by Dr. Herman N. Banderson, Chicago health commission-

SISTER MARY'S BEST RECIPES

BY SISTER MARY
(Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.)

CAKE BAKING

These suggestions are in reply to a letter asking for help in cake making. First use the very best materials. Pastry flour is preferable to bread flour. Bread flour contains more gluten than pastry flour and less is needed to thicken the cake. Use two tablespoons less per cup of bread flour than the rule calls for.

Pine granulated sugar is more desirable than a coarse-grained granulated sugar. The coarse sugar makes a cake of coarse texture with a hard crust.

Combine carefully. There are several methods of combining ingredients. The whites and yolks are sometimes beaten separately and then mixed, the sugar added with the shortening softened, but not hot and oily. The flour and baking powder are sifted together and added alternately with the liquid.

Shortening

Or the shortening and sugar are beaten to a cream. To do this, work the shortening until creamy and soft side of the mixing bowl. Slowly beat in sugar. Before adding the yolks of the eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored I like to add about two tablespoons of sifted flour to the butter and sugar. Take this flour out after the measuring, before sifting the second time with baking powder. Beat in yolks of eggs well beaten. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and a little salt. Add alternately with milk. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Turn into an oiled and floured cake pan and bake 20 to 30 minutes if a layer cake and 40 to 50 minutes if a loaf. The oven should be moderately hot.

Standard Rule

The standard rule that is most practical for every day use is this:

One-quarter to 1/2 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup liquid, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cups flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

The liquid can be sweet milk, cream, water, sour milk or sour cream. When sweet or sour cream is used the amount of shortening should be reduced to three tablespoons. Add

BOY SCOUT TROOP OF ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

The regular weekly meeting of Troop 31, Lowell council, Boy Scouts of America, was held in the St. Patrick's school hall, Thursday evening. Two patrols were formed and tenderfoot examinations were given the boys. A short telegraph line was set up, with two receiving and two sending sets, and messages in the Morse code were sent between two groups of the scouts. Scoutmaster J. Sexton, supervised the work, and was greatly pleased with the progress made by the boys. Only four boys more are needed to complete the enrollment of the troop. Fr. McLaughlin, head of all the troops in St. Patrick's church, addressed the boys. Several boxing matches between members of the troop were held for the purpose of instruction.

One-quarter teaspoon soda to sour milk or cream and use but one tablespoon baking powder.

Push mixture well up on the sides of the pan, leaving less batter in the center. This insures an even top when baked.

Put the cake in the center of the oven, providing an even temperature on all sides. Let rise to full height before moving. Do not let a draft of cold air strike the cake while baking, so open the oven door with care. (Copyright, 1923, The Lowell Sun)

Safe Fat Reduction

Reduce, reduce, reduce, is the slogan of all fat people. Diet thin, be slim, is the cry of fashion and society. And the overful wring their hands in mortification and helplessness, revelling at nauseating drugs, afraid of violent exercise, dreading the unwholesome and unsatisfying diet, until they hit upon the harmless Marmola Prescription and learn through it that they may safely reduce steadily and easily without one change in their mode of life, but harmlessly, sweetly, and quickly reaching their ideal of figure, with a smoother skin, better appetite and health than they have ever known. And now comes Marmola Prescription Tablets from the same famous harmless formula as the Marmola Prescription. It behooves you to learn the satisfactory, beneficial effects of this great, safe, and sure fat-reducing drug. Write for a free booklet or a box of Marmola Prescription Tablets. Add.

"How I Wooed and Won the $40,000,000 Rogers Heiress"

Count Salm's Own Story of His Whirlwind Courtship and Marriage

Count Ludwig Salm von Hoogstraeten

Who won the hand of Millicent Rogers, heiress to a $40,000,000 fortune left by her grandfather, H. H. Rogers of Standard Oil fame.

Countess von Hoogstraeten, formerly Millicent Rogers, daughter of Colonel H. H. Rogers, and granddaughter of the late H. H. Rogers, oil magnate.

The late H. H. ROGERS. Standard Oil magnate. Heir to the $40,000,000 fortune.

Von Hoogstraeten tells how titled Gold Diggers marry money. Gives amazing facts regarding heiresses who gave up all to marry titles.

Count Salm and Fern Andra, famous German movie star, an old flame of the Count. They are shown in a German movie in which the Count was the Sheikh.

Mrs. Grace Sands Montgomery Colfin, to whom the Count was engaged to be married, and whom he wedded Millicent Rogers.

Count Salm, known in Paris, London, Vienna and Continental Europe as the "Rodolph Valentino" of European movies, just before sailing from New York the other day on his honeymoon, completed the writing of the most thrilling real life romance ever offered for newspaper publication.

As picturesque as Don Juan, more widely known than Beau Brummel, this modern Romeo has written of heart affairs that have made the smart sets of four continents gasp and he makes public for the first time the true story of how he courted and won the charming (and immensely wealthy) Millicent Rogers, the richest matrimonial prize of 1924.

Don't miss a single chapter of this wonderful story; more fascinating than any romantic novel

Service to Honor Memory of Woodrow Wilson

HON. JAMES M. O'DONNELL
Vice-ChairmanREV. APPLETON GRANNIS
ChairmanBENJAMIN S. POUZNER
Secretary

A committee of 35 citizens will be in charge of the Woodrow Wilson memorial meeting to be held at the Auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, Feb. 17, at 3:30 o'clock. A permanent organization of such a committee was effected yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at city hall, when Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church was chosen chairman; Hon. James M. O'Donnell, vice chairman; and Benjamin S. Pouzner, secretary.

In an effort to secure a prominent man as the principal speaker at the exercises a committee consisting of Rev. Arthur C. McGilfert, Jr., Philip S. Marden and Andrew E. Barrett was named, the selection of an eulogist to be left in their hands. Among the names of Sherman L. Whipple, Bliss Perry, Robert Lincoln O'Brien, Albert Bushnell Hart, Albert H. Crocker and Judge Charles A. de Courcy have been mentioned as possibilities.

The arrangement of a musical program has been left to Albert Edmund Brown. The Lowell Masonic choir, through its executive committee, has offered its services and Wilfred Ker-shaw has volunteered as organist. An orchestra is under Mr. Brown's direction. A suitable program will be arranged without much trouble or effort.

Rev. Mr. Grannis expressed the belief that appropriate printed programs would add greatly to the memorial service and a committee which includes Hon. James B. Casey, Colin C. Macdonald and Harry C. Glashen was named to prepare them.

The Boy Scouts have offered their services, being eager to co-operate, and they will serve as ushers and program distributors.

The committee appeals to all veterans' organizations in the city to extend support to the memorial and assurance was received from G. A. R. post, Spanish War Veterans, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign War and Disabled American War Veterans that such support would be forthcoming.

The citizens' committee includes the following men:

Mayor John J. Donovan, Secretary Harry C. Glashen, City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds, Joseph H. McGilfert, Andrew E. Barrett, John J. Hayes, George M. Walsh, Colin C. Macdonald, James P. Conway, Rev. J. Field Speed, Representative Thomas J. Corbett, Rev. Arthur C. McGilfert, Hon. James B. Casey, Hon. James M. O'Donnell, Richard Sykes, Daniel J. O'Brien, George W. Morrison, William F. Newhall, Rev. Charles S. Otto, Rev. Henry Dunby, Dr. John R. de la Parra, Chairman James J. Gallagher of the city council, John P. McElride, Thomas B. Park, Patrick J. Burns, Miss Katherine Kelly, George Bowers, Patrick O'Hearty, John E. Drury, David F. Caddell, Harry J. O'Sullivan, Edward J. Conney, Rev. Appleton Grannis, Marden, Dr. Edward J. Welch and Daniel Carroll.

AUDITORIUM TRUSTEES
HOLD MEETING

The board of trustees of the Memorial Auditorium met this afternoon for the purpose of approving applications for the use of the main hall and Liberty hall. Notice has been received that the date of Feb. 13, which had been granted the Knights of Columbus to hold a presentation of automobiles as prizes in the campaign which is being held to raise funds for their new building, will remain open as the event has been indefinitely postponed.

Dates which were approved include the following: Feb. 10, mass meeting of the Hebrews of Lowell; in protest against the present restrictions imposed by the immigration laws; Hon. Perry D. Thompson, principal speaker; Feb. 13, Lowell Teachers' organization, illustrated lecture, free to the public in Liberty hall; Feb. 17, memorial exercises for Woodrow Wilson, under direction of a citizens' committee; Feb. 19, annual meeting and dinner of the Lowell chamber of commerce; Feb. 23, four local lodges of the Knights of Pythias, lecture, entertainment and dance; Feb. 25, 2nd Irish concert and dance; April 23, Boston College club of Lowell, dance; May 11, afternoon lecture under the auspices of the Christian Science society.

outside the hospital and began firing into the institution. Persons inside the hospital responded to the fire and a miniature battle waged for a short time.

Helders Patrol Streets

Before the arrival of the troops the raiders, armed with revolvers and shotguns, patrolled the streets of Herring denying anyone they considered suspicious to pass. At 11 o'clock the city police, armed with shotguns, entered the hospital, the mob shot at the street lights as those within the institution could not see where to aim.

Panic in Hospital

A number of patients in the hospital became panic stricken and were reported as highly nervous today. The first guardsmen arrived from Cambridge at 4 a. m., and the "dregs" then established headquarters at the city hall, several headquarters at the hospital. The guardsmen are patrolling the hospital to protect the mayor, Layman and Thomas.

Call for Lynchings

Five companies of troops had arrived this forenoon. The crowd which visited the meeting hall of the anti-klansmen, were headed by three of the policemen of Herring, and when shouts of "lynch them," "Strike 'em up!" were heard, Sheriff Galligan commanded an automobile and rushed the trio to Murphyboro, to protect them. The three are: Chief of Police John Ford and Policemen Harold John and Sam Stephens.

A number of windows in the hospital were shot out, and the building showed other "battle scars" such as bullet-punctured drain pipes and wall-sneezing. Just as the trouble in Herring was at its height, Leonard Sterns, deputy circuit clerk and son of Cretions Sam Sterns, was fired on as he was riding in an automobile in Marion, the county seat.

A bullet grazed his back but he was not injured seriously. He is the Klan candidate for circuit clerk. An automobile owned by John W. Whiteside, also an admitted member of the Klan, was fired on at the same time.

trolley traffic report for the day will show more passengers carried than on any pleasant Saturday within the year. And the shoppers came also on foot and in autos as well as on the cars. At noon the downtown streets were well filled with Saturday shoppers attracted by the additional lure of dollar day bargains. At mid-afternoon the shoppers were still jamming the streets and stores, seemingly ever increasing in number. Theatres did the usual capacity business and yet knowing that so many thousands were still indoors the average person paused for a moment to "wonder where they all come from."

Secretary-Manager George P. Wells, of the chamber of commerce was beaming broadly this morning as he heard the early reports from the stores. The "sure fire success" was not doubted for a moment from the time the doors opened. Flushed with the pleasure of the success of several weeks of preparation he placed the main credit for the success to the pulling power of advertising.

"The merchants individually and the chamber of commerce as a body did not discount the chances of putting the day over big," he said. "We not only advertised extensively in the newspapers but used posters and the trolley cars as well. No advertising bids that we thought feasible were overlooked."

That the trolley business picked up wonderfully today was manifested on the suburban runs particularly. Crowds of persons came from Ayer and other suburban communities to attend the sales. The wisdom of advertising in the Nashua papers was also seen, easily a score of New Hampshire cars being parked in the retail district during the day and the occupants enjoying a shopping tour.

The sale is expected to leave a pleasant after-taste in that all of the merchants were careful to make attractive specials for the day and make certain that it was evident that full value or better was given in every transaction.

Restaurants Busy
Lowell restaurants, one-arm lunch-ettes and serve yourself counters did a rushing business this noon due to the Dollar Day crowds. Cashiers were nearly unanimous in saying that the volume of noon hour business was the highest of any Saturday of the year. "Twenty minutes for lunch" was the order to the sales folks and they jostled through the sidewalk crowds, ducked in their favorite food purveyors, and took their "coffee and" without a lost moment.

INDIAN COMMUNICATION AND MUSIC BY RADIO

Through the courtesy and co-operation of Arthur C. Parker, New York state archeologist, the radio audience will be given the opportunity to hear from radio-phonograph at the Massachusetts Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., on Monday evening, February 12, at 8 o'clock, the musical instruments, rattles, water drums and tom-toms used by the Iroquois Indians in their ceremonies. This demonstration will be in connection with an address on "Aboriginal Methods of Communication" by Dr. Parker, during which the sounds of the various Indian instruments will be produced before the microphone, following the address the interpretation of native Indian music will be given by Mrs. Arthur C. Parker and Robert Kerr Colville, the latter the composer of the Indian musical opera "Tacheta," which is shortly to be produced in a metropolitan theatre. The songs will include "Cradle Song," "Blackfoot War Chant," "Blackfoot Love Song," "The Mosquito Song of the Mohawks," "Gibney Death Song" and "Winnebago Cradle Song."

The problem of the great bulk of misdirected or improperly addressed mail which every year goes to the dead letter office after all efforts to reclaim it have proved futile has long engaged the attention of postal authorities. Many thousands of dollars in actual cash, beside great quantities of articles of value, are included in this "dead letter" mail, and more often the failure of this matter to reach its proper destination is due to carelessness rather than ignorance. Postmaster Cornelius V. Collins of the Troy, N. Y., postoffice has been making a study of this problem and will offer some valuable suggestions for a campaign of education in the proper use of the mails in an address on "Use and Abuse of the United States Mail Service" which he will deliver by radio from station WHAZ at the Massachusetts Polytechnic Institute in Troy next Monday evening, February 12, at about 10 o'clock.

Head of Anti-Saloon League Sentenced to Sing Sing Prison on Forgery Charge

Stay of Execution on Plea for Certificate of Reasonable Doubt

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A stiff fight, it was asserted today, will be made to keep William H. Anderson, who was reported last night as having resigned as state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, from going to Sing Sing prison to which he was sentenced yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Tompkins for forging the books of that organization. Arguments will be heard next Friday by Supreme Court Justice Wagner for a certificate of reasonable doubt, which former Gov. Charles S. Whitman, chief of Mr. Anderson's attorneys, began to seek immediately after sentence had been pronounced. The move for the certificates was the first toward an appeal.

Should Justice Wagner refuse the certificate, Anderson, it was understood, would have to go to Sing Sing without delay to begin his term of between one and two years. But should it be granted, the way would be paved for an appeal and he probably would continue at liberty in the $5000 bail in which he was freed yesterday, until a new trial was held.

The minimum time Anderson would serve is nine months and 20 days on the provision that good behavior brings commutation. Unless the verdict is reversed, Anderson will lose his citizenship and be considered a felon under the law.

It was understood that the district attorney's office would hold over him four other indictments returned against him, charging grand larceny and extortion. The indictment upon which he was convicted alleged he forged the books by transferring money from the salary account to the expense account of O. Bertall Phillips, a fund collector.

Resignation Accepted
GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The resignation of William H. Anderson, as superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, was accepted at a meeting of the league's board of directors held in New York city Tuesday, Feb. 5. This statement was made early today by Rev. William C. Spicer, vice president of the Anti-Saloon League in New York state and pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Gloversville.

Franklin and adjoining counties to aid in the holding of Herrin, it was reported. Klansmen allege that Cagle was attacked and shot by a group of men. The Herrin police then received a riot call, according to klansmen and the shooting of Layman took place at that time.

Col. Culbertson Directs Troops
Col. A. L. Culbertson, who arrived in Marion Friday morning for an investigation of conditions in the county, has been ordered to take charge of the troops.

Sheriff Galligan stated that Layman was shot at a meeting that he, Galligan, had called in an effort to restore order.

The Klansmen here sought to prevent a gathering of their members, but the roads were crowded as cars after cars of men were rushed to Herrin from all over the county.

Wednesday of this week, S. Glenn Young, dry worker and leader of the Klan, arrested E. C. Frick, foreman of the Williamson county grand jury upon a charge of possessing illicit liquor in his home. Frick, who is a supervisor from Herrin township, former Herrin police officer, denied having liquor in his home and alleged that he was "framed."

He was taken to West Frankfort and held there without bail until the United States commissioner at Benton ordered his release. It is claimed in order that the grand jury might act. This action is alleged to have caused the tension existing in the county.

Second Time Troops Called

This is the second time troops have been called to Williamson county. Before withdrawal of troops on Jan. 18, Sheriff John Galligan had asked the co-operation of the citizens of the county before requesting their recall. As a result of his request, the citizens of the county pledged themselves to support the sheriff and of Herrin was up and John Bord of police to support John Stullman, the former chief. Other members of the police force were also replaced.

Chief Ford acknowledged support of the Klan and the Klan at that time pledged its support to Sheriff Galligan.

While the darkened streets in Herrin were reported filled with groups of armed men early this morning, the foreign section of the city was quiet and seemingly unaware of the situation.

Dry Officer Blamed for Trouble

Definite information as to developments, was refused. Reports indicated, however, that the present trouble was a fight for the control of the city between the Knights of the Flaming Circle and the Ku Klux Klan, with the latter reported to be in control at an early hour this morning.

Justice of the Peace Cagle has been active in the Klan raids and warrants were issued by him against those whose homes have been searched. Deputy Sheriff Layman with Sheriff Galligan, had declared himself as an opponent of the Klan.

S. Glenn Young, leader of the dry raids conducted recently, is responsible for the present situation in Williamson county, according to Sheriff Galligan, who asserted Young's continued raids had created the bitter feeling now existent.

Shoot Only When Necessary

HERRIN, Ill., Feb. 9. (By the Associated Press.)—Headquarters company of the 130th Illinois Infantry of Carbondale arrived in Herrin at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The company, commanded by Major Robert W. Davis, who issued orders to his men to use sound judgment and to shoot only when necessary.

Sheriff Shot—Hospital Fired Upon

CARBONDALE, Ill., Feb. 9. (By the Associated Press.)—The hospital in Herrin in which Deputy Sheriff John Layman was taken following his shooting last night, was fired upon early this morning, according to reports received here. Shooting was reported to have ceased at 2:30 o'clock this morning. Klansmen are organizing in Williamson, Franklin and adjoining counties preparing for a march on Herrin, it was reported.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning, the Ku Klux Klan were reported in complete control of Herrin. Patrols were on the streets, refusing entrance and exit to the city. They were reported parading the streets armed with revolvers, shotguns and weapons of all kinds. The city hall had been established as headquarters. The agitation is said to have centered about the disappearance of three Herrin police officers, whom the Klansmen allege were kidnapped by the sheriff.

More Troops Called

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 9.—Four additional companies of state militiamen were ordered to Herrin, Ill., early today when Carlos Black, state adjutant general, was informed by Col. A. L. Culbertson, his representative at Herrin that the trouble growing out of feeling engendered by dry raids had assumed the proportion of a riot. Five companies of guardsmen previously had been ordered to Herrin. Cavalry was included in the second group of guardsmen ordered to Herrin. Troops F and G of the headquarters troops of the 106th cavalry, all of Springfield, being ordered to enroute as quickly as possible. Company C of the 120th infantry, also of Springfield, made the sixth company of infantrymen ordered on duty.

At the Merrimack Square Theatre

Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt in the Paramount Picture "Don't Call It Love," a William de Mille Production.

The Merrimack Square theatre program for the first four days of the coming week, beginning with Sunday matinee, is one that should meet with the enthusiastic approval of all movie fans in Lowell and vicinity. Two of the biggest attractions of the season have been booked by Manager Peterson. They are "Don't Call It Love," the noted William de Mille production of modern life, with such stars as Jack Holt, Agnes Ayres and Nina Naldi, and "Odds Are Even," an entertaining and lively presentation with William Russell, virile star, in the featured role.

"Don't Call It Love" is a story of love and artistic temperament treaded in the customary high class de Mille style. It was produced by Mr. de Mille from Julian Street's best selling novel, "Rita Coventry." Later the story was dramatized and played in New York—all within 12 months.

Like all of William de Mille's pictures, this production fairly glows with class. "The artist's life" and the rich at their country houses, "back stage" with the temperamental and beautiful opera star and love-making within her boudoir, the clash of two beautiful women, one famous for her loves and the other a modest girl, for the same man—that's the atmosphere of "Don't Call It Love."

The beauty of William de Mille pictures is that they appeal to the masses and classes alike. They don't depend on slinking slapstick. They take it for granted that people have brains.

Never has a picture story been interpreted by a cast of more popular players than that which distinguishes "Don't Call It Love." They are Agnes Ayres, Jack Holt, Nina Naldi, Theodore Kosloff and Rod La Rocque. Miss Ayres, dainty Paramount star, has a large following which was vastly augmented by her success in "Racing Heart," "The Heart Raider" and "The Marriage Maker." Miss Naldi, one of the most alluring figures of the American screen, proved her brilliant artistry in "Blood and Sand," "Lawful Larceny" and many other screen-classics. Mr. Kosloff is a thoroughly artistic player whose conspicuous new role was displayed to finer advantage than in this delightful production. Mr. La Rocque, a handsome young actor, returns to Paramount productions in "Don't Call It Love."

Here's the story: Rita Coventry is a poor girl with a rich voice and magnetic beauty. Going to Atlantic City, after ten years' study in Paris where her friends had sent her, in company with Parrish, she meets a handsome young Irishman who comes to tune the piano in her hotel suite. Her vamping tactics are ignored and this pleases her. She learns that he is the proud title. She laments that he is a pianist and composer and induces him to play for her. He is wonderful. She falls for him, ignoring Parrish now. Deane, however, is still contemptuous. But in the end Rita "lands him" and Richard, seeing the face of his actions, returns shamefaced to Alice and pleads with her to receive him back—and she does so.

"Odds Are Even," the other feature for the first part of the week, introduces William Russell in one of the best productions in which that star has ever appeared. It is crammed with "punch" and action from start to finish. Mr. Russell has an able supporting cast.

A comedy and the latest International News will complete the photoplay program. And don't forget the Merrimack Square musical program. They form a most enjoyable part of every performance.

Madeline Boland at Rialto Sunday

A SCENE FROM "YOUR FRIEND AND MINE"

Madeline Boland, well known local songstress and old-time Rialto favorite, will once again be seen behind the footlights at the popular Rialto square theatre. Miss Boland is presenting her brand new vaudeville offering in which she is appearing. No doubt many of her friends will flock to the Rialto to see her. Other acts on the bill include Fitz and Bigelow in a screaming act, called "The Long and Short of It." These men are two extremes. One is very tall, while the other is very short, and together they make a hilarious combination: Crystal and Anderson, in "Ain't She Dumb," and Musical Comedy, "The Long and Short of It." The feature picture for Sunday is "The Ragged Edge," a Goldwyn attraction, starring Alfred Lunt.

Richard Talmadge, "the human dynamo," or better still known as "the man who knows no fear," and who made such a big hit in "The Speed King" and "Through the Flames," is once again on the Rialto screen and this time in a picture that is said to eclipse all his other pictures in the theatre's most eyes. Young Dick Talmadge is a protégé of Douglas Fairbanks, but he has become a greater athlete than Fairbanks can ever hope to be. He is a veritable jumping-jack, rushing through a series of hair-raising stunts with the agility of a deer and with the speed that seems supernatural. He really has to be seen to be appreciated.

In his new picture, "Danger Ahead," Talmadge plays a dual role, a role that requires much skill and splendid acting. If one were to describe the story, even briefly, it would spoil the whole picture, as it is a mysterious story that holds the spectators in constant doubt as to "who's who" and "what's what." Suffice to say, that with Talmadge in the leading role of a story that concerns the underworld, a well planned crime that was hatched in the nick of time and other interesting events, that

Sunday and Week Day Bills at Keith's

PORTER J. WHITE AT B. F. KEITH'S

The Sunday bill at the B. F. Keith theatre will be a remarkable one in every way. New acts for the day will be "The Harbour & Lyman," in singing and comedy; "Rae Black," an unusually fetching singer, and "Smith & West," whose musical act is a strikingly good one. Also there will be presented Moore & Freed, with their unique musical act; "Nan Traveltine," a spirited singer of songs, and "Western's Radio ship." The day's picture will be "The Visitor," a sketch which for 25 minutes will run the whole gamut of emotions. Mr. White forsook the legitimate stage for a brief season. The strange, mysterious atmosphere of the sketch will simply compel attention. It is one of the best things of a legitimate nature done in vaudeville in years.

Kaufman and Lillian, a chap and a maid, will sing, dance and talk, and they call their packet of entertainment "Pur and Feather." The title of the act isn't the important thing. Importance attaches itself to the very clever work which the pair offer.

The Ishikawa brothers, four supple geniuses of Japan, are exceptional equilibrists. Their feats are of the astounding variety and their concluding work is highly sensational.

The picture for the week will be "The Man from Brodway," made from the highly successful novel of the same name by George Barr McCutcheon. It is an all-round picture, dealing with a young American who is entangled in court intrigue and is put to the supreme test to save the girl he loves. The hand-to-hand encounter is a thrilling affair and one of the best of the picture is a strange and beautiful scene in which the young man is held captive by a band of savages.

Is he a woman or is she a man? A woman vanishes! A strange man appears! Was there foul play? Or is this man and woman one and the same person. Here is a mystery that stirred two continents as it will stir you. See "Ponjola," Cynthia Stockley's great story, adapted to the screen and presented at The Strand for four days, beginning with matinee on Sunday. In it Anna Q. Nilsson portrays one of her most interesting and entertaining roles, and she is assisted by a cast that includes James Kirkwood, Tully Marshall and others.

Katherine MacDonald, long recognized as the screen's most charming personality, will be presented in "Christy," a story of life behind the scenes. A comedy and weekly will contribute to a program of wide variety and genuine pleasure.

"Ponjola" is an adaptation of Cynthia Stockley's famous novel and is described as "a foot proof film material." The reflection of the book story is faithfully and correctly depicted on the screen. The hundreds of thousands of book readers who enjoyed "Ponjola" will find in the screen version even more pleasure than was had in its original form. The story concerns a young woman who is about to end her life via suicide when she is met by a young and prosperous Englishman who persuades her of her folly. She learns that he is engaged to a young woman of his own social standing but later he has gone from Paris to the section of South Africa and there has become a victim of ponjola, the native drink, the girl goes there and in the disguise of a man, tries to end his concern. Here she learns of the intrigue of others to not only make sure of the young man's sweet-

MASONIC CHOIR CONCERT

Event on Feb. 22 to Be

Enhanced by Appearance of Jeanette Vreeland

The most interesting program of male choral work ever given in the city is promised for the Masonic choir concert to be given at the Auditorium on the evening of the 22d.

Lowell has come to expect unusually fine things of the Masonic choir, based on previous concerts, and because of this particular care has been shown this season in the selection and preparation.

tion of a program. The choir is in weekly rehearsal, and has been for some time and there can be but one result—an excellent program, faultlessly given under Mr. Brown's direction.

The choir will not be alone that night, for it has engaged as a soloist and assisting artist, Jeanette Vreeland, New York soprano of wide accomplishments, of whom critics have spoken kindly ever since her debut.

Recently the Buffalo Evening News said of her:

"Miss Vreeland is a thoroughly interesting and always artistic. She has a brilliant soprano voice which adapts itself equally well to graceful, lyric utterance and to dramatic style. She is vocally commanding and her style is authoritative. She uses her voice admirably and projects each song in a convincing manner."

The associate members of the choir had first opportunities today to exchange their memberships for two reserved seats. This limited sale will extend for one week, or until the public sale begins at Steiner's on Saturday, the 16th.

BIG GRAND OPERA NIGHT HERE FEBRUARY 18

Reliable reports from New York indicate that Florence Gallo, delectable little impresario of the famous San Carlo Grand Opera company, some time styled "the self crowned despot," has this season raised his nationally popular organization to a place among the clouds. It would seem that the San Carlo has "fully arrived." The artistic personnel this year is as high as perfect as could be asked of an enterprising purveyor of fine art at unusually popular prices, and on top of this Mr. Gallo has not neglected a good showman's maxim of "give them their money's worth, and a little more." This is palpably evident in his having provided beautiful new scenery; splendid and colorful new costumes imported from the countries in which the opera stories take place; and in his engaging only the most pleasing artists, and enlarging his already large brilliant chorus and orchestra. It is promised that Lowell is to enjoy the same identical sumptuous lyric fare when the San Carlo comes to the Auditorium, on Monday evening, February 18.

For dramatic unity and the quality of its effects, the San Carlo company is probably unsurpassed in the country. Other companies may boast the greater number of famous stars, but none has a higher general personnel. The San Carlo is the only permanently organized touring grand opera company in America, and it has added the stamp of metropolitan approval by its five weeks season in New York, at the magnificent Century Opera House, opposite Central park. Packed houses attended every performance here, and on more than seven occasions during the five weeks season, hundreds were turned away long before the curtain went up.

This is to be grand opera's biggest year. From the newspapers and musical journals of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, and the many cities visited by the San Carlo company, it is apparent that the American public has developed an appetite for grand opera that will make the season of 1923-1924 a real letter years for opera. And Lowell is to have a seat at the first table for the feast of opera, when the San Carlo arrives here.

Mme. Tamaki Mura, the winsome Japanese songbird, whose voice has been praised in almost every part of the world, will sing the title role in "Madame Butterfly," and Colin O'More, a Lowell favorite, who appeared in the Auditorium in concert programs twice last season, will sing the role of the dashing American naval officer.

Lowell is solidly behind the project to have a real "grand opera night" here the 18th. The chamber of commerce, stores and other agencies are endeavoring to put the affair over with a home and judging from the speed with which tickets are selling at Chamber's valet department, a capacity, representative audience will enjoy the performance.

POINSETTIA GIRLS HAVE FINE PARTY

The third annual party of the Poinsettia girls was given in Associate hall last evening and proved most successful, both socially and financially. Last evening's party was under the direction of Miss Mary Cushman, president, Miss Zita David, treasurer, Miss Mary Morris, secretary, Miss Mary Brooks, Miss Alice Corkery and Miss Nora Cummings.

Y. M. C. I. Brings Elsie Janis Here

MISS ELSIE JANIS

If she were forced to give up the stage and engage in some other line of work (which is hardly likely in view of her long years of success and frugality), Elsie Janis, who makes her debut as a concert artist in this city next Thursday night at the Auditorium, could make her living in three or four different ways. She could, for instance, write popular music, lyric, teach stage dancing, design costume, or become a novelist—all pleasant and lucrative vocations. She could, if necessary, join the stage hands' union and become a stage manager or master electrician.

With the enfranchisement of women, a political victory and the fulfillment of a century old struggle for women suffrage came the democratization of business, giving women equal rights and equal pay for equal service. Women everywhere have taken advantage of the new order of things, and today every business in the land not only recognizes women, their fitness and their ability to assimilate the complexities of commercial and financial pursuits, but it is a fact that women have actually taken the leadership in many fields of business activity. Miss Janis is here under the auspices of the Y. M. C. I., and seats for her concert are on sale at Steiner's.

"The only branch of our law making system in which I am interested is the one having to do with incomes and working conditions for women and children," Miss Janis told this reporter. "I am not so keen about who is elected to office or how he gets there, but I am concerned with how he votes on measures designed to lighten the burden and better the conditions of women obliged to work for a living."

"Much has been accomplished along sale of the Y.M.C.I. these lines in the last few years. Employers themselves at last have come to realize that better pay and better surroundings and shorter hours are more profitable than the old slave methods that crushed the very souls out of the poor workers and reduced their productivity."

"These are the laws which interest me and I think women have done more in the last few years to bring about these conditions than was done before in the history of the country. Much more along these lines will be done in the future and it will be done by women themselves, not by employers or man-made laws."

"While it is true that women have a firmer place in the professions and big business today than ever before, occupying high offices and receiving enormous salaries, I don't believe those women are very different from the women of fifty years ago. The country is larger and the demands greater, thus opportunities are now offered the educated woman in business 'at never existed for her mother or grandmother. I can't bear the bass drum very hard for this type of woman worker. The women who devote their time and money to promote better conditions for the women and children in the factories are the ones who are doing the big things in this country today. That is what I expect to do some day. To my mind, that is the greatest work in the world—to do something to make life easier and happier for the poor, especially women and children."

These are the sentiments of one whose whole life has been devoted to making people happy and who herself would appear to have not a care. Steiner's is handling the tickets.

CAKE SALE WAS A BIG SUCCESS

A cake sale, the proceeds of which will be donated to the fund for the curing out of the St. Patrick's program, was held in the Gagnon Co. establishment yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Irish societies.

Over 200 cakes were donated by the members and their friends, and the cake table directly in the centre of the main entrance of the store was the scene for busy housewives bent on purchasing sweets and delicacies for dinner and supper. The sale, which opened at 10 o'clock, was most successful and at the end of the afternoon the workers felt amply repaid for the weeks of planning previous to yesterday's sale.

Together with the cakes, cookies and other products of culinary art, were canned fruits and vegetables as well as jellies, bread and candy.

To make the table more attractive, a large bouquet of red and pale yellow carnations, the gift of John J. Moloney, the florist, was placed in the centre.

The committee in charge of the affair included Mrs. Michael Kierce, chairman; Mrs. Mary Curran, Mrs. M. J. Sharkey, Mrs. James Downey, Mrs. Edward Fahy, Mrs. Catherine Colone, Mrs. Katherine Kierce, Mrs. Helen O'Connor, Mrs. P. J. Kane, Mrs. Esther Kane, Mrs. Thomas M. ## LOYD GEORGE DISCREDITED

Ex-Premier Lloyd George of England stands discredited before the world on his statement to a correspondent of the New York World, that during his absence from Paris while the peace congress was in session, President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau of France made a secret agreement under which France should be authorized to occupy the Rhineland for fifteen years. This statement coming out immediately after the death of ex-President Wilson made an international sensation. But the contradiction came promptly and with such crushing force and proof of authenticity, that Lloyd George, the author of the story, is convicted of a falsehood and his effort to wriggle out of it is about as futile as that of a rat caught in a steel trap. Here is the reply of M. Tardieu, the spokesman of Georges Clemenceau:

"Lloyd George has lied and lied without intelligence. The French government, as a matter of fact, knows of nothing to which the insinuations of Mr. Lloyd George could apply. No secret pact was concluded between M. Clemenceau and Mr. Wilson, and if there were conversations between them during Mr. Lloyd George's absence, the latter was acquainted with the results as soon as he returned; and he gave his adhesion on the morning of April 22, 1919. The particular clauses in question became 428 to 432 of the treaty which was signed and agreed to by all the parties after full and free deliberation."

The French government did not wait for the death of Mr. Wilson to ask the British government to publish a yellow book containing all the documents relating to the elaboration of the articles of peace concerning the security of France as well as a treaty of guarantee.

It was in peculiarly bad taste for Lloyd George to come out with such ridiculous statements following the death of Wilson. M. Clemenceau was not basing the security of his country upon any secret agreement especially with the representative of a country that would have no power to enforce it. Besides, it was a reflection on President Wilson who stood for open covenants openly arrived at, to say that he had entered into a secret arrangement so unstatesmanlike and so un-Wilsonlike as that given out by Lloyd George. The latter says he was misquoted, but the World correspondent defends the article in controversy as a fair presentation of a talk with the ex-premier. The public, therefore, can draw but one conclusion.

STEADY ACHIEVEMENT

Lowell chamber of commerce issues its annual report covering all important activities chronicled in the past twelve busy months. The 1923 survey comes to hand in most attractive form, the "Bulletin," now being widely distributed, presenting a comprehensive record of each and every diligent movement of public import carried on during the successful year just closed.

There is evidence in this readable annual survey that this Lowell business men's organization is vigorously pressing forward with the times. It continues without abatement to engage actively in many vital municipal affairs, with able counsel and suggestion. It has participated in many pressing civic programs and tackled current problems having to do with such important matters as traffic and transportation, community welfare work, industrial projects, labor controversies, as well as other miscellaneous activities of general local importance to all inhabitants.

In some respects, the chamber organization finds itself today ahead of some other organizations of similar makeup in New England. The last twelve months have seen deflations in many prosperity values the country over. President Edward Fisher, in his survey of the past year's work problems, declares that a chamber of commerce is successful insofar as it remains true to the fundamental philosophy of community betterment. The moment that the material betterment of this or that element takes the ascendancy, an organization such as this working for what is best for everybody, must fail.

President Fisher finds that since the close of the war there has been a devaluation in national spiritual values. In Lowell, as elsewhere, it has not been easy to enlist the active support, or even the moral support of large numbers of citizens for some worthy, unselfish purpose. There is evidence in fact, nevertheless, that some of this "don't care" spirit, this tendency to "let somebody else do it," is disappearing. We have had evidence in recent months that when an important issue springs up in a large community like Lowell, and calls for enlistment of general support, there is a better feeling of mutual welfare and an indication of returning old-time community spirit and closer association to support endorsed movements for the public welfare.

The value of the present chamber of commerce quarters as a meeting place for many other local organizations and groups of citizens is shown by the annual report, which gives a total of 157 meetings held, with a total attendance of 2158.

PORTO RICAN'S FEARS

The San Juan Porto Rico Illustrated, a journal widely known for its editorials of frequently marked anti-American acerbity, is bitterly opposed, editorially, to the idea that Porto Rico should enter the union of the states as a state itself incorporated. And yet back in the year 1899, this very journal, claiming to represent Porto Rican public views closely, loudly advocated entrance into the union among the very strongest island forces prominently endorsing union at that time just after the close of the Spanish-American war.

The Porto Rican editor's change of views is explained by the following: "Now after having seen the constitutions of Arizona and New Mexico, the educational laws of Massachusetts, Illinois, Ohio, etc., as well as the declarations of such eminent Americans as Roosevelt, Bryan, Taft, Weeks and Root, we realize that admission to state membership would be Porto Rican's death. That is not the aim of true Porto Ricans, nor of thoughtful Americans."

Homo rule is asked for today, and a Porto Rican leader of some island-bound fame, Antonio R. Barreto, president of Porto Rican senate and chief of the unionist party, has conducted a mission to Washington to prevent the island's admission as a state.

Leading a double life may get you through just twice as quick.

Nearly every year the groundhog is called a liar, but he always stages a comeback.

Wouldn't it be nice if summer came every winter and winter came every summer?

During the recent Mexican election several men failed to vote because they had no ammunition.

They almost changed the American flag by giving up the field of stars for an oil field.

Citizens and Mellon don't agree on taxes. That shouldn't worry them. Nobody agrees on taxes.

Wouldn't it be great if restaurants and soda fountain proprietors would do away with cups and glasses carrying jagged edges.

A Thought
Riches without law are more dangerous than poverty without law.—Henry Ward Beecher.

The Poor Man:
After hearing many things at the seaside resort Mr. Flubdu took up the subject of his own fatheadness in allowing himself to be dragged away from a comfortable home. Apparently this made him think of the family cat. Hey, what about the cat? What did he do with the cat? The cat is provided for, stated Mr. Flubdu calmly. "Our neighbor promised to feed it." That gave him another helpful thought. "Well I hope the cat is getting better than we are."

Impromptu Necessary
Uncle Sandy was an ardent admirer of a worthy interpreter of Scotland's most famous poet. There came a friend who invited him to attend a banquet. He knew about this banquet and had already made some discreet inquiries. The information secured had not aroused his enthusiasm. And he was away. Uncle Sandy's friend, however, was something from Robert Burns? The old gentleman gave him an oblique glance. "That must not be a dry banquet."

Very Wise Move
Mrs. Doherty was the gossip of the suburb of Strongshore, and wherever any of her neighbors met her they always prepared to receive a nice little dose of scandal about some of their friends. Mrs. Doherty loved gossip as much as did Mrs. Doherty, and so she was extremely pleased when she saw the latter lady coming along in her direction one morning when she was out shopping. "Did you hear, Mrs. Doherty, that you saw her husband in town with a strange woman?" Mrs. Doherty asked when they had exchanged greetings. "Yes," was the reply, "and I wish I hadn't now. She just smiled at me in her wise way and said: 'Yes, I know all about that. My husband saw you and told me that you were straight back and tell me, so he telephoned the news to me himself.'"

Memories of Home
The tenderest chords within me breast
Awaited me the touch
Of home, my home, pictures bright,
I think of you, my home,
I feel a quickening of my pulse
A thrill run thro' my frame,
A point up yearning, knitted me heart
And faded the furrows of time
A dormant love has long concealed,
Till now I feel it straight back and
Alone in the dear old hallowed place
That meant the world to me.

In France's field I saw a mare,
A little since again,
Bareheaded riding 'thru' the fields,
And down the mountain side,
And up the steep, green grassy slopes,
Among the heather bloom,
Where purple lilies in harmony,
Blent with the golden bloom,
I had seen down the grassy slopes
Unremembered in my gloom,
And listened to the lark's sweet song,
A song she sang for me.

I paid in the rippling burn,
In waters cool and clear,
And watched its fluted numbers dart
North many stories in air,
I lived as only one can live
The Nature's joys attained,
Who sees the handwork of God
In Mother Nature's hand,
And now that these are only dreams
But oh how dear the me,
For just a glimpse of an old home,
For just a glimpse of an old home,
For just a glimpse of an old home,
For just a glimpse of an old home,

THE TEACHERS
The Lowell Teachers' organization approves the recommendation of the salary committee as to increases and necessary readjustments. The Teachers' organization is familiar with the duties and salaries of all teachers and is qualified to give a fair decision on the merits of all such matters.

The question is, whether the municipal authorities can see the whole matter in the same light as do the teachers, or whether the demands of the teachers coming with so many others of a similar kind, can be adequately met without swelling the tax levy so as to be too heavy upon the taxpayers now suffering from business depression? However, the city authorities must endeavor to do full justice to the teaching force of our city.

GERMAN STUPIDITY
It seems that the Germans are incapable of understanding American sentiment. The unwillingness to show any sympathy on the death of ex-President Wilson was utterly foolish. The war has been over for over five years and it is for the best interests of Germany now to recover the friendships that had been lost during that struggle. But her officials do not seem to think so.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

Although all six of the dogs brought to Lowell by Arthur Walden from his Woodland farm, in connection with the winter carnival, came in for a great deal of attention, the splendid leader, Chinook, really held the centre of the stage. Chinook remained at his master's side pretty much of the time and did not bunk with the rest of the team at the park department stable in Jenney street. He stood at Colonel and got his meals in approved style. Chinook is eight years old and at present weighs just 96 pounds. He is a real dog, part mongrel, according to his master, but distinctly resembling a St. Bernard, particularly about the head.

Arthur Walden is an interesting conversationalist. He's a rugged chap of uncertain age, but for a guess we should say 42 or 43. Most of his life has been spent out-of-doors and his constitution and general set-up give every evidence of the fact. Asked as to the speed of his team when going to the park department stable for his daily, taking the roads and trails as he finds them, and maintaining an average of about 10 miles an hour. That is not so slow. For shorter distances, with perfect traveling conditions, miles in four minutes are general. His dogs are not all lugged out at the end of a day's run, but immediately drop and fall into a sound sleep, after at the end of 10 miles or 100 miles.

Today is Dollar day, a day of real bargains and the downtown streets were teeming with shoppers as early as 9 a.m. Such days are needed this winter, merchants declare, for buying is some too good, weak in and week out and if stocks of merchandise are to be moved from shelves before spring, some such incentive is needed to attract people to the stores.

Mr. P. E. Haggerty, who is going on his 67th year, was one of the interested spectators at the carnival exercises on Thursday. He was not satisfied with remaining at the bottom of Port Hill, but climbed gallantly to the top and on arrival there, he declared to a friend that the view was magnificent and that it was well worth the exertion of climbing the hill. There are not many men of Mr. Haggerty's age who would attempt to climb that hill under conditions made more difficult by a coating of dry snow.

The need of limiting crowds at track meets in the high school annex is unfortunate, but decidedly a wise thing. Probably in no other Massachusetts city do track athletes, particularly the indoor kind, arouse such interest and support as in Lowell. It always has been so and many of us will remember the crowds which flocked into the drill shed 15 and even 20 years ago. More persons now attend track meets than ever before and the accommodations of the annex simply cannot be stretched any farther. There must be limit, both for safety's sake and for the comfort of spectators. The school would like to take in several thousands of people, but it can't be done and therefore, a limit has been established which will be rigidly enforced.

Golden Jubilee
Says the Sun: "In the battle with the Philippines Sunday, Lowell was probably more largely represented than any other city in Massachusetts. Among the Lowell boys who participated in the battle and helped to rout the Philippines were John E. Rodgers, Frank L. Contello, Edward B. Francis and Charles Avery. On board the U.S.S. Baltimore was Lieut. Holmes, and on the Monadnock, which was in the thickest of the fray, were C. P. Perkins and William Wesley."

HERE'S SOMETHING TO REMEMBER
The old Sun: "With all outside in the thrives of a most desperate mid-winter storm, within the inspiring edifice of St. Patrick's church this morning all was grandeur, for there was celebrated with all the pomp of the Catholic church a religious event unprecedented in the history of the city, the golden jubilee of Rev. Michael O'Brien, the venerable and beloved rector of St. Patrick's parish. It was the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination and for weeks preparations for the event had been under way and perfection was reached in all the minutest details. The jubilee sermon was preached by Rev. Fr. McManus of Lawrence."

From the old Sun: "One girl was prostrated with fright this forenoon, when an accident to an engine in the Tremont & Suffolk mills came near causing a stampede which could not help resulting in fatalities. Even now it is miraculous that Belt-maker Ed Smith and Otter Daniel Bruce are numbered among the living. The accident was caused by the breaking of a piston head which fell into the cylinder in such a manner that the piston was driven forward through the cylinder head and cap. As there was a hundred and fifty pound pressure at the time, the crash was terrific. Bruce and Smith were thrown several feet from where they were standing and pieces of broken metal showered around them, but fortunately they escaped with their lives."

Middlesex Women's Club
Says the Sun: "The educational department of the Middlesex Women's Club was entertained by Albert Poor, a Boston lawyer, who talked on the importance of women of a certain amount of knowledge of business and of law. Mr. Poor said he welcomed women in the law profession and had no doubt that doctors would do likewise. The male lawyers have no right to say the field belongs to us," he said, "it belongs to everybody who can do the work to those who can do it best, whether they be male or female."

Mr. Marden Honored
From the Sun: "From Washington comes the following despatch: 'Hon. George Marden of Lowell, Mass., was nominated by the president today for the position of assistant treasurer of the United States at Boston.'"

Departmental Estimates
City departments in the year 1899 estimated it would cost $1,550,000 to operate during the fiscal year. This amount was slightly less than $100,000 above the estimates of the year previous. To run the fire department, $119,000 was asked, to operate the police department, the superintendent asked for $125,500, while the street department asked for $150,000. For the operation of the public school system, $285,000 was estimated. In connection with a meeting of the board of aldermen for the consideration of the annual budget, Alderman Dimon read a petition for the erection of a fire house in the Oaklands, which was referred to the fire department committee for an estimate of expense.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THRILLS

I've seen some excitement and strife,
I've tasted of triumphs a few,
I've found much of savor in life,
I've had an adventure or two;
I've known some of trouble and bliss,
But during the years that have fled
The thrill that was greatest was this—
When I got a round-runner sled.

Before that occasion I slid
On runners exceedingly flat,
And I was considered a "kid."
There's nothing much lower than that;
But there came a glorious time
When I knocked the gang of them dead,
By flashing a bright new, sublime
Round-runner and spring-runner sled.

With that I stepped out of the class
Of "babies" and "sissies" and "girls,"
My pride I shall never surpass,
And even now memory whirls
With thoughts of that marvelous thrill
Whose glamor has never yet fled,
That day I appeared on the hill
Equipped with my round-runner sled.

THE SPELLBINDER

For the reason that interest is focused on the coming national conventions of the great political parties, one does not hear so much as might be expected of the coming United States senatorial contest in this state. At this time it is only fair to assume that Senator David I. Walsh, who has rendered such a successful and honorable stewardship, will be the democratic nominee to succeed himself. The republicans will probably choose between William M. Butler and Louis A. Coolidge for his opponent. Mr. Butler is a millionaire, an old Murray Crane lieutenant, a manufacturer and a big interest man. He is absolutely against the veterans, insofar as their claim for adjusted compensation is concerned. Mr. Coolidge, a big interest man and a bright light in the national commerce chamber, which is also against the veterans, insofar as their claim for adjusted compensation is concerned. Mr. Coolidge is a big interest man and a bright light in the national commerce chamber, which is also against the veterans, insofar as their claim for adjusted compensation is concerned.

The last issue of the American Legion Weekly at hand—and the Legion is non-political, makes it plain that David I. Walsh is as ever out to protect, to conserve and to improve and insure the rights and hopes of the former service men. Mr. Butler, to speak frankly, is not. He is shown in another light.

Speaking of President Coolidge, the weekly says: "He is a candidate to succeed himself and his personal campaign manager in the pre-nomination contest which is now well underway, is William M. Butler, a millionaire manufacturer of New England. Mr. Butler is out to interest men with money in the candidacy of his aspirant for the presidency. He is out to convince such men that Mr. Coolidge is safe and sane, an man with money and contacts of those forming big business is against adjusted compensation and Mr. Coolidge has turned against it. This affords Mr. Butler a powerful talking point."

"Understand me, I do not mean to insinuate anything improper about Mr. Butler's support of the candidacy of Mr. Coolidge. Mr. Coolidge has a perfect right to run for president and Mr. Butler has a perfect right to support him. I know how adverse the legion is to discussing political matters. We are a non-political organization, and we try to avoid even the appearance of evil in that regard. But

I have set out to tell you the truth about the adjusted compensation fight, and the whole truth about it, and I cannot do that without bringing in incidentally these political angles. Unfortunately politics and political considerations—which are quite proper things in themselves—are playing a role which cannot be overlooked in the settlement of this purely economic and non-political issue of justice to the veterans of the World War. So, Mr. Butler, by reason of all this, has become a real factor in our situation.

"Mr. Mellon in addition to being the secretary of the treasury and the president's adviser on government fiscal matters, also is deeply interested in pre-nomination politics at present. Furthermore, he is the administration's swordswinger in the open fight against adjusted compensation. Mr. Mellon's business acumen has won for him a high place in the select councils of the big industrial groups whose support is now being solicited in the interest of more than one candidate for the presidency. But Mr. Mellon is loyal to his chief. He is working with Mr. Butler."

So, that is another angle of who this William M. Butler is. The story is told by Aaron Shapiro, chairman of the national legislative committee of the legion. The voters of Massachusetts will not fail to appraise Mr. Butler, through the medium of the polls, just what they think of the millionaire manufacturer and foe of adjusted compensation who would take from the lion, David I. Walsh his seat in the United States senate. Senator David I. Walsh has served too long and too faithfully to have much to fear from Mr. Butler."

New York Police Seek Haunts of Bootleggers in Hope of Finding Murderers

Two Men Visited Apartment Shortly Before Miss Lawson Was Found Slain

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—A dragnet of police and detectives today was stretched to all of the city's known haunts of bootleggers in an effort to find two men who visited the luxurious West 77th street apartment of Louise Lawson, pretty and 24 years old, shortly before the young woman was found yesterday morning bound and gagged on her bed, gagged and strangled to death.

Clad in faint night clothes, the body was found in a tastefully decorated room, the disorder of which indicated a spirited struggle with her assailants. Furniture was overturned; jewel boxes were empty of their contents which police believe contained a platinum bracelet, said to be worth $800; vases containing freshly cut roses were tipped over.

On a dresser stood a photograph of an army officer and one of General M. D. Kane, chairman of the executive committee of the Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit corporation, lawyer and broker, who police learned had been interested in the young woman.

Thomas Kane, elevator man, furnished the police with their most valuable clue to the slayers—a description of two men who said they were expressing their interest in the apartment early yesterday. One carried a brown parcel.

On emerging from Miss Lawson's apartment fifteen minutes after they had entered, Kane told the police he had overheard one of the men grumble: "She wanted Scotch and here I am with an armful of rye."

A neighbor heard the men announce to Miss Lawson that they were expressing interest in the theory that they were bootleggers who had been attracted by jewels Miss Lawson wore and by other articles they had seen in her apartment; robbery they said, was the motive of the crime.

The young woman, it was learned, came here from her home in Walnut Springs, Tex., six years ago to study music and make her living as a pianist and as a motion picture actress. As an actress, she played one or two minor roles in cinema productions, but it was believed, had

Soaks Right in And Limbers Up Stiff Joints

Pharmacists Call It "Joint-Ease" Because It's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduer and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really help the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia,aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatsoever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

Groom's Drug Store, Fred Howard, Doves, the Drug Store, Fairburn Bldg., dispenses it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggist everywhere.—Adv.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" MADE FROM FRUIT

Intensified Juices of Oranges, Apples, Figs and Prunes

Combined With Tonics

In overcoming disease and making the sick well, "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" get their rare and unusual powers from the method of combining the fruit juices.

This process was discovered by a physician and perfected by him after hundreds of tests. By this discovery, the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes are concentrated and combined with tonics in such a manner that the medicinal action of the fruit juices is made much more active and valuable.

not had an engagement for some time. Mr. Dahl was but one of her socially prominent friends. She was a friend of the late Angier B. Duke and was one of those at the party which ended in his drowning at Greenwich, Conn., last September. While ostensibly a student of the piano, she had a motor car at her disposal, it was stated.

Mr. Dahl spent several hours yesterday explaining to the police his friendship with the young woman. The elevator man said Dahl had been a frequent caller at the West 77th street house and was seen leaving there Wednesday morning. Police asserted they had found in the apartment a record showing Miss Lawson owned $12,000 in B.M.T. stock.

Fred Landeck, a lawyer and friend of Mr. Dahl, explained that the transit executive not only knew the girl, but her parents as well and that he had been interested in her musical education.

DISCUSSIONS DAILY OF CIVIC AFFAIRS

Many new ideas regarded as worthy of immediate action were received during the week in the course of the daily program of work meetings carried on at the chamber of commerce, commencing last Monday. Secretary-Manager George F. Wells said today that the daily discussions have been helpful and illuminative to all who participated and that the result of undoubted genuine worth as to how the chamber may increase its value to its members and the community at large were made.

Among movements which it was evident many thought the chamber should lend the weight of its support to were the abolition of grade crossings, the improvement of acoustic properties of Irish auditorium at the high school, the undertaking of a permanent street paving program, the solution of our traffic problems, an improvement of the city's fire and police collection service, the proposed French street extension, the proposed Palmer street extension, the having of French and John streets, the stricter enforcement of the fire and building codes, and improvement of the park.

In many of these matters the chamber is already interested, but even greater interest is recommended and more steps to bring about the

HAD NO COLOR LIPS WERE BLUE

Nervousness, Dizzy Spells and Loss of Appetite Were Further Symptoms of Thin Blood

"My blood had been poor and I had no sleep for a long time," said Mrs. Philip Danas, of No. 11 Selden street, Rochester, N. Y., "and finally I suffered a nervous collapse as a result of a sudden death in the family."

"I had no color at all and my lips were blue. I had dizzy spells and sick headaches. I lost my appetite and I was nervous and excited all of the time. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from reading about them in a newspaper. Then I could see a change. My nerves became quieter and I did not have the dizzy spells. My appetite improved and gradually I got more color. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a reliable blood building tonic. They certainly helped me and I am glad to recommend them."

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at your druggist's today or write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., enclosing sixty cents and a box will be sent you, postpaid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request.—Adv.

PREPARE REPORTS ON REVENUE BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Members of the ways and means committee prepared divergent reports today on the revenue bill which will be reported to the house Monday, while republican leaders continued efforts to unite their party for some stand on income rates that would assure passage of a republican measure in the face of solid democratic opposition.

Tentative yesterday of the resolution providing a constitutional amendment to prohibit the issuance of tax-exempt securities leaders said will have no effect on tax revision plans as contained in the committee's bill. The resolution lost by seven votes of the necessary two-thirds majority.

LECTURE SUNDAY IN THE PARKER SERIES

The lecture next Sunday in the Parker series upon "Ancient America and Its Peoples" by Arthur P. Abbott, well-known as an author and historian, has been very highly commended by educational authorities and others. It is illustrated by lantern slides showing some of the most interesting phases of the habitation of these peoples who lived in Southwestern America long before Columbus discovered the continent.

While the ancient history of this country is more or less clouded in the mists of uncertainty, Mr. Abbott has made a careful study of the facts available and will present an interesting story that cannot fail to broaden one's knowledge of these ancient peoples.

Through the period of discovery and conquest the writings of explorers and conquerors are voluminous and, in the main, dependable. After a lapse of some two centuries Humboldt, the explorer and scientist, with others, makes valuable contribution. Half a century later Prescott adds additional and valuable light. Finally our great institutions of learning and research have been, and are now, and will continue to add to and make more clear the data available.

It is a careful study of the former and co-operation of the latter that forms the basis of the information given in this lecture.

This lecture is an outline of a new popular history of ancient America by Mr. Abbott, which is soon to be published. Many of the slides in the lecture will appear among the illustrations in the book, of which in the latter, there will be some one hundred and fifty.

A. O. H. NOW PLANNING
BIG CLASS INITIATION

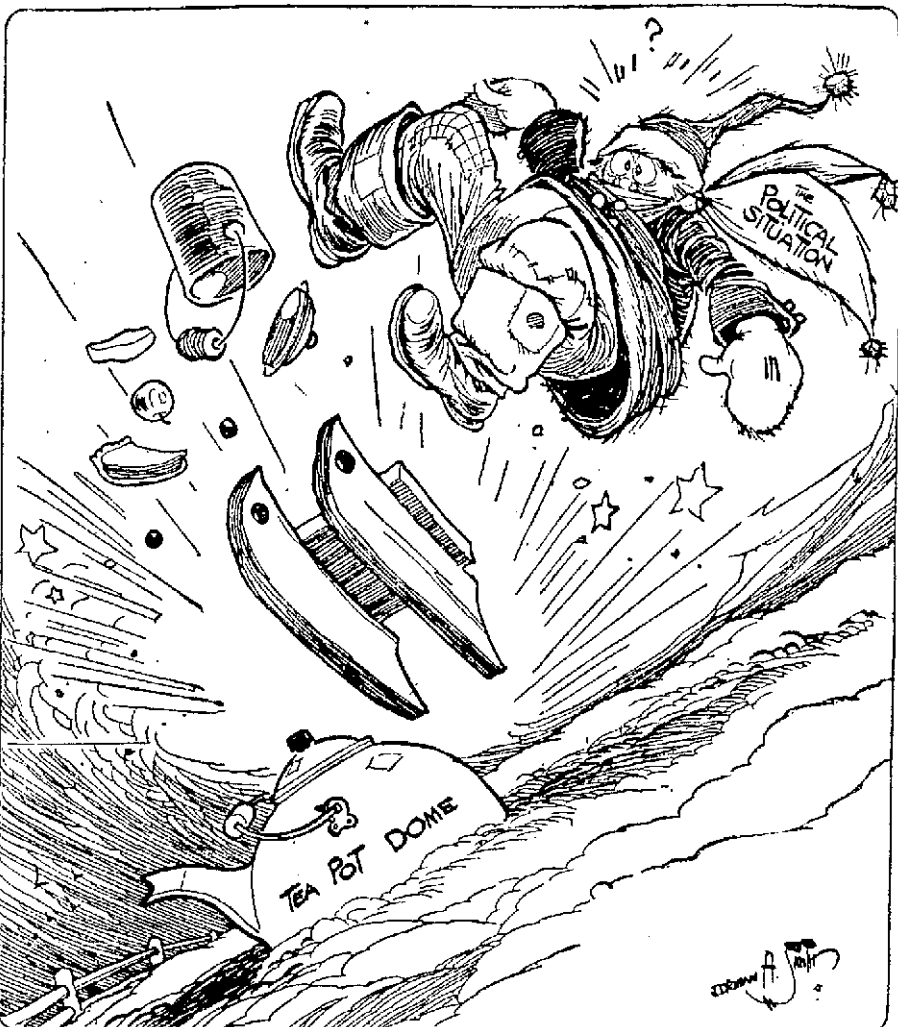

The various divisions of the A. O. H. societies of Lowell are working hard in preparing for a class initiation which will be held at Lowell Feb. 17. This is expected to be a banner day for the workers of the organization as it is several years since there have been such elaborate preparations for a similar event. A degree term has been organized and is under the direction of Capt. Murphy. At a recent meeting of the Central council reports were read from the various councils and ladies' auxiliaries and there is much rivalry among the teams captained by President James O'Sullivan, John O'Sullivan, James J. McManmon. Present at the initiation exercises will be numerous dignitaries from the many sections of the A. O. H. and a fine program will be carried out.

$271,942,867
FOR U. S. NAVYAnnual Naval Appropriation
Bill Reported By House
Committee Today$30,000,000 Available For
Completing Vessels Now
Under Construction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The annual naval appropriation bill carrying $271,942,867, of which $30,000,000 could be available for completing more than a score of vessels now under construction, was reported today by the house appropriations committee. The total is $4,433,000 less than budget estimates and $23,024,000 less than the amount allotted the navy by congress a year ago.

The bill provides $117,000,000 for pay, enough to keep the navy at its present strength of 649 officers and $6,000 enlisted men during the fiscal year beginning July 1, next. Provision also is made for 1002 officers and 19,500 enlisted men in the marine corps.

Commenting on the proposed Polar expedition trip of the dirigible Shenandoah, next summer, the report said actual expenses over normal operating costs would approximate $153,000 and that since most of this amount would meet the current appropriations, the committee had not seen fit to interfere in any way with plans for the expedition.

As to new ship construction the committee said it was without power to authorize expenditures for vessels not yet sanctioned by congress, but cited information it had obtained to the effect that the navy department is committed to a program for building types permissible under the Washington arms conference treaty, which with the modernizing program already under way, could involve expenditure of approximately $35,000,000 for the next ten years.

With reference to the appropriation of $33,000,000 for continuing the building of ships permissible under the arms conference agreements the report said that on November 30 last one battleship, two airplane carriers, six scout cruisers, 13 submarines, three fleet submarines, one gunboat, two destroyer tenders, one submarine tender and one rapid ship were in various stages of construction and would be completed during the coming fiscal year, with the exception of the two airplane carriers, three of the scout cruisers and three fleet submarines. An additional $6,000,000 was estimated, will have to be appropriated to complete the work.

The committee declined to accept a budget recommendation that $2,550,000 be appropriated for commencing the construction of three fleet submarines authorized 1916, declaring the values of this type of craft had not yet been proved. It recommended instead that $600,000 be made available for the development and testing of submarine motive power under actual service conditions.

For betterments at navy yards and naval stations, the committee recommended an appropriation of $1,916,500 or less than half the budget estimate to be distributed for the most part as follows:

Boston navy yard, $175,000; Mare Island navy yard, $725,000; Puget Sound navy yard, $100,000; Pearl Harbor navy station, $175,000; Cavite,

they went into the agreement along these lines and the leases were granted.

Mid-West and Pioneer got a million dollars in oil produced by Sinclair Co. on the Teapot Dome. That it was confirmed.

Steel Treated Like Office Boy.
The feeling with Sinclair was not friendly to Mr. Stack (J. Leo Stack, one of the big oil men, $111,000, and Great Lakes naval station, $115,000. The report points out that the committee had no authority to make allocations for some of the projects provided for in the budget estimates, including the Alameda, Cal., base and the Sand Point, Wash., aviation station.

of those associated with Bonilla. They treated him like an office boy, and thought they could settle with him on any terms agreeable to him.

The Pioneer kept telling him to settle with Sinclair to take whatever he would give him.

During his testimony, yesterday, the witness had said that he and Stack a Denver oil man, with H. H. Parnell, his partner and H. H. Schwartz, their attorney, negotiated a settlement with Sinclair, the proceeds of which were split four ways. This settlement he said, took place after the Post had published an article attacking the Teapot Dome situation but had deferred publication of other stories on the same subject because of a fear of libel suits.

Today Bonilla vigorously denied that the attitude of his paper toward Sinclair had anything to do with the contract of settlement.

To Vote on Resolution

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The senate met an hour earlier than usual today in an effort to reach a vote before adjournment on the Robinson resolution requesting President Coolidge to call upon Secretary Doheny for his resignation, and its oil committee pressed forward along the new line of naval reserve leasing investigation developed yesterday in the voluntary testimony of Frederick G. Bonfield, publisher of the Denver Post.

The committee, with the scope of its inquiry steadily broadening, and its list of prospective witnesses rapidly lengthening, also had before it today the president's nominations of Silas H. Strawn of Chicago, and former Senator Pomeroy of Ohio, to act as special counsel for the government in its oil cases under the Walsh resolution, directing court proceedings. Mr. Coolidge in signing the measure, notified the senate that in doing so he expressed "no opinion with reference to the facts which purport to be found in the preamble of the resolution" which declares the leases were made in violation of the law and under circumstances, indicating fraud and corruption.

$1,000,000 Involved

Mr. Bonilla, whose testimony yesterday caused the committee to put off until Monday, its committee with the request for a hearing made by William G. McAdoo, candidate for the democratic presidential nomination, had reached the point of cross-examination when the committee resumed the inquiry this morning. He asserted yesterday that, with H. H. Parnell, his partner and H. H. Schwartz, their attorney, he had entered into an agreement to assist John Leo Stack, Denver oil man, in efforts to enforce a contract with certain companies which had asserted claims in the Wyoming field, and that Harry F. Sinclair, holder of the Teapot Dome lease, had signed a contract involving payment amounting to $1,000,000 in settlement of the claims. The alleged rights involved in the transaction, Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, has told the senate, had been denied by the government.

Test Validity of Lease

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Legal effort to test the validity of a 60-year lease given by the board of harbor commissioners to E. L. Doheny's Pan-American company on municipally owned land in the harbor district here, was urged in a message sent to the city council late yesterday by Mayor Geo. E. Cryer.

Attorneys have contended that the harbor board is expressly prohibited by the city charter and ordinance from leasing for private use any portion of the municipally owned waterfront property of which 1200 front feet were leased to Doheny on June 22, 1922.

LOWEST DIVIDEND
RATE SINCE WAR

FALL RIVER, Feb. 8.—The dividend rate of Fall River cotton mills for the first quarter of 1924, according to the figures furnished by G. M. Haffards & Co., is the lowest since the World War. The average of 1914 plus per cent on the capitalization of $22,213,000, the sum of $2,415 being distributed to the stockholders during the period. The decrease is primarily due to the absence of extra dividends, the King Philip mills contributing nearly $600,000 to the grand total of the previous year. A special 2 1/2 per cent cash dividend, other corporations have decreased the rate of dividend from 2 to 1 1/2 per cent.

SEPARATISTS VACATE MAYENCE BUILDINGS

MAYENCE, Germany, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press) The separatists this morning vacated the public buildings in Mayence which they have been holding for some time. The evacuation apparently was made in agreement with the functionaries of the old regime, who entered from one side as the separatists left from the other.

EPIDEMIC OF SUICIDES IN VIENNA

VIENNA, Feb. 8.—The Austrian capital is suffering from a growing epidemic of suicides, most of which are attributed to the widespread unemployment. The climax was reached on Thursday, when 11 persons took their own lives during the 24 hours.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 9

Jack took out his handkerchief and removed the dust from his dog's eyes. "He'll be all right now," smiled South Wind, "that was just to teach the dog not to chase people who have done him no harm." And then South Wind asked Jack if he liked nice big red apples. "Sure," said Jack.

"Well, you just come with me," replied the friendly puffy fellow. So Jack followed as South Wind led the way to a great orchard. "Now pick out the tree you would like some apples off of," said South Wind. And Jack, after looking around, pointed to a great towering apple tree.

In an instant a breeze picked up. Stronger and stronger it blew. "Look out, now," shouted South Wind. And, as Jack jumped to one side, big red apples started falling to the ground. "That's one of my good little breezes at work," said South Wind. "He's blowing apples down to you." (Continued.)

NO. 12—A WINKY WINKY RIDDLE

My home's a garden where the flowers stay awake.

The Riddle Lady said next day in Riddle Land. "We have had several winter riddles, so this is a summer riddle. It's about something very small and bright and only seen on a summer night. Listen now, Nancy and Nick! Listen, everybody! Here's the riddle:

"My home's a garden where the flowers stay awake for hours and hours, And then at dusk they fold up tight; And say good-night."

"But the house I rent—a big, red nose, Is not so sleepy I suppose. Because it does not shut up so! And out it goes."

"I am the watchman if you please; I watch the flowers and garden trees. No one comes in, no one goes out, I'm about."

"My lantern winks and winks and winks, And Mister Moon he blinks and blinks. And so between us both, why we watch carefully."

"For fairies and the tricky elves Would just come in and help themselves."
